CONTEMPLATE RAPID ADVANCE

When Once the March to Peking is Begun Cipher Message Sent to General Chaffee.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Secretary Hay's reply to Li Hung Chang has closed the negotiations with China unless the old viceroy is able to secure the full acceptance of our terms relative to the foreign ministers, and that at once. No orders looking to the relaxation of the preparations for the advance on Peking have gone out from Washington; for as the situation is described by one of the leading officials here "there will be no bargaining on our part in advance of the concession by the Chinese authorities of full and free communication with the foreign ministers."

There is, moreover, a note ominously close to actual war in Secretary Hay's declaration that the conduct of the Chinese government "is unfriendly." That kind of language is extreme in diplomacy and it is only a narrow step between it and formal war.

The impression prevails here that the Chinese government, if it is not absolutely unable to act in defiance of the Boxers, will accept our terms and some such action is looked for very soon. Possibly a battle, not more, it is believed, than one at the most, will be required to bring the imperial government to the point of acceptance, though in that case it is questionable whether the original conditions would be regarded as still open to acceptance.

If the Chinese government now accepts, however, the United States government will be face to face with one of the most delicate and momentous diplomatic tasks ever undertaken. It must attempt to redeem its promise to use its good offices in favor of China, and in the present temper of some of the European powers, the greatest difficulties may be expected to arise in the prosecution of the attempt. It is the confident expectation of the officials here, however, that if the Chinese government actually and in good faith meets all four of the conditions laid down in his reply to the Chinese emperor's appeal for aid that at least a majority of the powers now represented in China will accept that as a proper base upon which to cease present hostilities and open negotiations for a settlement. The decision of the majority of such cases, without doubt, would receive the acquiescence of the minority, else an interminable entanglement might arise.

Secretary Root said this afternoon that there had been no developments which would necessitate any changes in the instructions to Gen. Chaffee or which would change the intentions of the government in the least. A cipher cable message was sent to Gen. Chaffee by Secretary Root today, which contained additional information and facts which have developed since the last message was sent to him at Nagasaki. The message contained no additional instructions, but merely information, which he may use as a guide to his actions.

It is not believed at the war department that an advance has been made as yet from Tien-tsin. It is explained that the last dispatches indicated a great deal of delay in unloading the transports and before any advance can be made the troops must have all their equipments and transportation for them. The indications are that the plans being matured at Tien-tsin contemplate a rapid advance when the movement begins, for it seems to be understood that there will be carried with the army a sufficient quantity of supplies to maintain the troops on the march to Peking and return if a return should be advisable. The fact that no reports were received from Gen. Chaffee during the day was not surprising to the war department officials, who said that the general was busy preparing for the campaign, and moreover communication between Ta-ku and Chi fu is uncertain.

AMERICA IN CHINA AS GERMANY VIEWS HER

Berlin, Aug. 2.—The National Zeitung, in a leading article on "America in China," says:

"If the movement upon Peking has now really begun, America undoubtedly deserves great credit. Immediately after the first direct news from Mr. Conger, the United States minister, received a communication firmly regarded at all times in Washington as authentic, Mr. Hay insisted with all earnestness that Mr. Conger's cry for help absolutely demanded speedy relief. It even seemed for a while that the American secretary of state entertained the thought of sending a purely American expedition to Peking if necessary."

The paper is gratified at President McKinley's refusal to accept Li Hung Chang's offer to deliver Mr. Conger if the American expedition is countermanded. It thinks, however, that Washington's China policy has been wavering and at [illegible] due to the exigencies of the presidential campaign and to the presence of the Chinese themselves in the United States.

The Kreuz Zeitung has an article on the same subject. Assuming that the United States is still ready to mediate, this journal remarks:

"It would be a brilliant electioneering coup if President McKinley's administration could come forward as the preserver of the world's peace. With its separate roll, the administration would draw nearer the goal which American concert of greatness is already striving for, namely, native hegemony in the Pacific. This goal is not one to be reached easily, but the prospect can do President McKinley's party good service in the coming election."

The papers print a sermon preached by Emperor William last Sunday on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, from Exodus, chapter 18, verse vii:

"And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hand that Israel prevailed; and when he let down his hand Amalek prevailed." The subject was "The Holy Duty and Holy Power of Intercession."

The reports show that the discourse was quite bellicose toward China. Of the soldiers going thither, the imperial preacher said:

"They shall be the strong arm which punishes assassins. They shall be the mailed fist which smites that chaotic mass. They shall defend, sword in hand, our holiest possessions. * * *

"True prayers can still cast the banner of the cross upon the walls."

REPORT ON CONDITIONS IN ISLAND OF TUTUILA

Washington, Aug. 2.—Commander Benjamin F. Tilley, in charge of the United States naval station on the island of Tutuila, Samoa, transmits in a recent report to the navy upon the condition of affairs on the island, "an instrument of cession" executed by the chiefs of Tutuila and the United States government. The document formally cedes and transfers to Commander Tilley, as the representative of the United States government, the islands of Tutuila, Aunuu, and all other islands, rocks, reefs, foreshores and waters lying between certain degrees of latitude and longitude named, to erect the same into a separate district to be known as the district of Tutuila.

"The instrument of cession" was signed by the marks of 22 chiefs, with their seals affixed, on the 17th of April last, immediately prior to the raising of the stars and stripes over the naval station at Pago-Pago.

The provisions of the government set forth that the chiefs of the towns shall be entitled to retain their individual control of the separate towns providing the same shall be in accordance with the laws of the United States concerning Tutuila. It also provides that this government shall respect and protect the individual rights of the people to their land and property and that should the government require their lands it shall have the [illegible] payment of a fair consideration.

Commander Tilley visited Rose island, the eastern member of the Samoan group, which lies 70 miles to the east of Manua, hoisted the American flag and took formal possession. This island is nothing but a coral atoll and is of no value.

Very stringent regulations have been issued by Commander Tilley prohibiting the importation of firearms, dynamite and other explosives into Tutuila. An order recently issued forbids the importation of wines, beers or liquors except by permission of the commandant.

NOME CITY PROSPECTORS CLASH WITH MILITARY

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 2.—The Times says:

The first trouble between the military and prospectors in the north this year resulted in the arrest of over 100 of the miners who went to Topkuk, about 50 miles south of Nome City. The men had been forced to quit work on the Topkuk beach by the authorities several days before but the ground had proven to be rich and they went back to work again.

Ten of the prisoners were brought to Nome on July 20 and released on bonds. The clash occurred July 17. About a week before, over a hundred miners were forced to quit work along the beach at Topkuk by soldiers that were landed from the United States transport Seward. Soldiers were regularly detailed day and night to guard the cliff from being [illegible] away by the miners, who were only too eager to get at the rich pay streak, which was already uncovered for a width of several hundred feet.

Under the conditions of suspension of work the miners were allowed to work their dumps which was pretty nearly completed this week. That having been done, the miners held a consultation and determined to defy Uncle Sam and return to work. The soldiers were all mustered out on the beach and with bayonets fixed attempted to force the men to leave but not a man stirred.

A parley ensued with the result that 30 or 40 miners submitted to arrest and were put under guard. Others quickly took the place of the arrested ones and were in turn themselves arrested, until the soldiers have now more than they can attend to.

A perplexing problem now is how to feed and house the arrested miners. If they are not fed the soldiers are in danger of being overpowered until relieved by revenue cutters or transports.

This trouble is the culmination of a contest of the creek claimants of No. 1, of which there are two factions. One faction claimed to have located the Tundra claim in December last and were suffered to be in possession. The other faction claimed that because the initial monument of the first faction was set up on the beach and not on the Tundra, it was not a legal location and was jumpable, which they accordingly are alleged to have done.

SITUATION IN CHINA

Efficient censorship of the Chinese seems to have cut the world off from all late developments.

It is supposed in London that the Washington orders to General Chaffee has been the means of starting the relief forces towards Peking despite the fact that other commanders deprecated haste.

Negotiations with China are at a standstill unless Secretary Hay's terms are accepted. His declaration that the attitude of the empire "is unfriendly" is considered but a short remove from a formal declaration of war.

RAID ON TENDERLOIN.

New York, Aug. 2.—Eighty-one women and 11 men who were arrested in the Tivoli, a tenderloin resort, last night, were arraigned in police court here today. Two of the women were fined $10 for disorderly conduct and another was sentenced to three months imprisonment as a vagrant. The other cases went over.

Of the men, all were discharged excepting John F. O'Connor, the temporary manager of the Tivoli, who was held in $2,000 bail for examination, and John F. McAvoy, the waiter who is alleged to have assaulted State Senator Ford in the Tivoli a few nights ago and against whom Senator Ford appeared as the complaining witness.

McAvoy was held in $1,000 bail for examination tomorrow, his counsel stating that he desired to bring counter charges against Senator Ford.

KLONDIKE GOLD.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Reports of the bureau of the mint show that the receipts of gold at the Seattle assay office in the month of July from the Klondike amount to $6,084,000 and from Alaska to $266,000.

At San Francisco the original receipts were $2,159,032 from the Klondike and $121,676 from Alaska. The total receipts of the San Francisco mint in July from all sources, including the Seattle assay office, amounted to $13,400,000. Total receipts on the Pacific coast from the Klondike so far this season are about [illegible], against $7,630,000 at the same time last year.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The monthly statement of the collections of the internal revenue show that during the month of June the collections amounted to $28,104,152, an increase as compared with June, 1899, of $1,916,721.

The increase in the total receipts for the year over 1899 were $12,831,534.

CHRISTIAN TOWN DESTROYED

Inhabitants Killed by Imperial Troops Advancing to Repel Forces of the Allied Powers.

London, Aug. 3, 3:45 a. m.—No word comes this morning regarding the fortunes of the comparatively small body of troops believed to be forging their way toward Peking. The silence is probably due to diligent censorship rather than to any lack of developments.

A Shang-hai special announces the receipt of an official telegram from the tsung li yamen, asserting that the ministers were all well on July 30 and that vegetables, fruits and other supplies had been sent to the legations on several occasions.

"Friendly intercourse," the official telegram says, "is now being carried on between the ministers and the imperial government."

According to the Daily Express, however, cablegrams from Chi-fu announce that the imperial troops, advancing to oppose the relief force, have completely wiped out a Christian town near Peking, killing five foreign priests and 10,000 native Christians.

General Gazelee—so says this correspondent—was strongly opposed to an immediate advance but he was overruled by the other commanders and influenced by Washington's order to General Chaffee to "proceed without an instant's delay."

From Shang-hai the Daily Express has received confirmation of the reported murder of 40 missionaries in the province of Shan-si, with the additional information that eight English women were dragged out of the mission buildings by a Chinese mob, who beheaded them in the streets of Chu-chow.

French troops are reported to have occupied Meng-tsze in the province of Yun-nan.

The Tien-tsin correspondent of the Daily Standard says:

"A heartrending letter has been received from the Japanese legation, dated July 22, stating that the casualties number 60 per cent; that only 25 cartridges per man are left, with sufficient food for five days, and that it is feared the legation will succumb within a week."

Mr. Brodrick's statement in the house of commons yesterday, placing Great Britain on record as unalterably opposed to the partition of China, is well received by all the morning papers which, for lack of other news, chiefly devote their comments to Dr. Morrison's remarkable message to the Times, cabled yesterday to the United States.

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Chronicle who reports Emperor William's extraordinary sermon of Monday on board of the Hohenzollern, says that some of the most striking sentences attributed to the kaiser are the following:

"Once again has the heathen spirit of the Amalekites been raised in distant Asia with great power and much cunning. With destruction and murder it will dispute the way to European trade and European culture. It will dispute the victorious march of Christian customs and Christian faith.

"And, again is heard God's command, 'Choose us out men and go out to fight with Amalek.' A hot and sanguinary struggle has begun. Already a number of our brethren are over there under fire. Many more are traveling along hostile coasts.

"You have seen them, the thousands who, to the call of volunteers to the front who will guard the empire, have assembled themselves to battle with victorious banners. We who remain at home are bound by other sacred duties. Woe unto us if we remain sloth*ful and sluggish while they are en*gaged in their difficult and bloody work, and if, from our place of security, we only curiously look on while they wrestle in battle.

"Not only should we mobilize battalions of troops, but we should also, and shall, set in motion an army of trained people to beg and entreat for our brethren that they may strike into the wild chaos with sword in hand. May they strike for our most sacred possessions. We would pray that God, the Lord may make heroes of our men and lead those heroes to victory and that then, with laurels on their helmets and orders on their breasts, He may lead them home to the land of their fathers.

"Our fight will not be finished in one day, but let not our hands grow weary or sink until victory is secured. Let our prayers be as a wall of fire around the camp of our brethren. Eternity will reveal the fulfillment of an old promise—'Call upon Me in trouble, and I will deliver thee.' Therefore, pray continuously."

NEW WITNESSES HEARD IN THE POWERS TRIAL

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 2.—The defense in the Powers case offered testimony of six new witnesses in court today and much of the two sessions held was taken up by the wrangling of the attorneys for both sides, the jury being sent out a half dozen times. One of the features of the day was the presenting by Colonel Mengeal of the First Kentucky regiment of state guards, of an autograph letter from Governor Taylor written on January 18, two weeks before the shooting of Goebel, in which he instructed him to obey "all orders and signals" given him by Adjutant General Collier.

This officer offered to explain the Cooper messages "all right" sent out by Collier immediately after the shooting. The defense was overruled on two important points during the day, Judge Cantrill refusing to allow one witness to relate a conversation he claimed to have had with Wharton Golden relative to receiving pay for testimony and refusing to let another witness read to the jury the resolutions adopted by the mountain petitioners and which they attempted to present to the legislature. The defense expected to show by the resolutions that the assembling of these petitioners was not for an unlawful purpose.

NEGRO DISFRANCHISED IN NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 2.—After one of the most bitterly contested campaigns ever known in North Carolina, the Democrats and white supremacy triumphed today by a majority of about 30,000. Today's election disfranchises *the negro and changed the state legis*lature from its combination majority of Republicans and Populists to straight Democratic, insuring the defeat of Marion Butler for re-election as United States senator. The negroes, as a general thing, remained away from the polls.

The election unexpectedly passed on without any trouble excepting at a little town named Fanison. A fire there, which started in a drug store wherein were kept the registration books, destroyed the apothecary shop, the work being attributed by the Democrats to those opposed to white rule. Bloodhounds were called out but failed to find any trace of the alleged incendiary.

The election was for state officers, members of the legislature and county officers, and for an amendment to the state constitution looking to a practical elimination of the negro from politics, as its adoption disfranchises the bulk of the negro vote. By far the greatest interest centered in the fight over the amendment. Many negroes voted for the amendment. The faculty of Livingston college at Salisbury, one of the most prominent negro educational institutions in the south, voted for it. The amendment was opposed by the fusion of Populists and Republicans, headed by Senators Butler and Pritchard. There was a full poll of the Democratic strength which, combined with a small negro and some Populist and Republican ballots, rolled up a large majority.

Spenser B. Adams, fusion nominee for governor, was defeated by Charles B. Aycock, the Democratic nominee, and all the other Democratic candidates were elected. The legislature is Democratic in both branches. Mecklenburg county, of which Charlotte is the county seat, gave 3,000 majority for the Democratic county ticket. Every eastern county was carried by the Democrats, the majorities in some of them being 3,000. Most of the central counties are also Democratic. Returns from the west are incomplete.

Democratic Chairman Simmonds said tonight:

"I think we have a safe majority of 50,000 and at least four-fifths of the legislature."

SHAH OF PERSIA.

Attempt Made to Assassinate the Shah While Visiting Paris.

Paris, Aug. 2.—Muzaffer-Ed-Din, shah of Persia, who has been a visitor to the exposition since Saturday as the guest of France, narrowly escaped an assassin's bullet this morning. It had been arranged for him today to visit Sevres and see the national pottery works, going afterward to Versailles, and it was just after he had left the sovereign's palace on his way to the Seine to go on board a yacht placed at his disposal for the trip that the attempt upon his life was made.

Only five minutes before the pistol was presented at his breast he was the recipient of a letter which warned him that his life was in danger. No serious thought, however, was given to the contents, so numerous had been former warnings of the same character.

As he was seated in the landau before leaving the court of the palace his secretary brought him a letter dated at Naples, but posted in Paris last night, signed with a name bearing an Italian termination. It said:

"Today you shall meet the same fate as Humbert."

In no wise disconcerted, the shah handed the letter to the officer on guard and gave orders for the carriage to start. The gates of the palace were thrown open and as the monarch emerged a large crowd of curious onlookers broke into cries of "Vive le shah" and "Vive la Perse." Hardly had these exclamations died away when a man dressed in the ordinary clothing of a Paris workman, darted forward from between two automobiles where he was hidden and rushed toward the imperial carriage, overthrowing a bicycle policeman, who rolled under the feet of the horses. In an instant he was on the carriage step. Holding the door with his left hand, with his right he pushed a revolver toward the breast of the shah. He seemed to hesitate for a moment as though undecided where to aim. This hesitation saved the Persian. Before the would-be assassin could pull the trigger, a strong hand grasped the wrist and wrenched it so that the weapon dropped harmlessly to the bottom of the landau.

"I'd like to have a photograph of that man," nonchalantly exclaimed the shah.

Then, addressing a few words in his native tongue to his companions in the carriage, he told the coachman to drive on.

Seated in the landau with the shah at the time the assault was made, were the grand vizier, the personal physician of the monarch, and General Parent, his personal aide. General Parent in the course of an interview subsequently said:

"It was the court physician, who met the criminal advance. It was he who seized the individual by the wrist and arrested the movement of aggression for a sufficient time to allow the pistol to be knocked from the assailant's hand. I am inclined to the belief that the man is an Italian."

Paris, Aug. 3—1:10 a. m.—Up to midnight nothing regarding the would-be assassin or his connections had been learned that was not known within half an hour after his arrest. He maintains absolute silence. The peculiarity of his accent, although he speaks perfect French, mystifies the officials, it having been asserted by one of these that his accent was English. A man speaking English was permitted to enter his cell. The visitor addressed him, but he gave the appearance of absolute inability to understand and the visitor came away convinced that he was not acquainted with that language. The impression left is that he is from southern France or possibly a border Spaniard.

While the popular belief is that he had an accomplice there is no actual evidence to prove this. The police are thoroughly mystified and disconcerted. Although the man has been seen by most of the secret service officials, not one of them has been able to recognize him.

Paris has received the news of the attempt with but one sensation, that of indignation. All join to condemn the outrage upon the guest of the nation. As a result of it the shah will hereafter be surrounded by a guard wherever he goes. Extra precautions will also be taken to protect President Loubet.

TENNIS AT NEWCASTLE.

Newcastle, N. H., Aug. 2.—The second round in the singles of the Wentworth tennis tournament was finished today and four matches in the day were played. Paret beat C. S. Hardy, 6-4, 6-4.

In the doubles, a close match was played between the Hardy brothers and Paret and Davidson, the Pacific coast champions winning by a score of 6-4, 10-8.

Ward beat Samuel Hardy in the singles, 6-3, 6-0.

SOLACE COMING HOME.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The Solace, with the sick and wounded from China, reached Nagasaki yesterday on her homeward trip.

CHOCTAW ELETION.

South McAlester, I. T., Aug. 2.—Reliable returns of the election of governor, held in the Choctaw nation yesterday, show that Judge G. W. Dukes has been elected. Mr. Dukes ran on the full blood ticket.

TENNESSEE POLITICS.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 2.—James D. Richardson, leader of the minority in the house, was renominated for congress by the congressional convention of the Fifth congressional district today. He had no opposition.

SEMINARY FOR ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—The Norwegian Lutheran seminary has accepted the offer of local people and decided to locate at St. Anthony park, in this city, making 11 colleges and seminaries having homes in St. Paul. Expensive new buildings will be erected at once.

HOSPITAL CORPS RECRUITS.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 2.—Sergeant George Whitemeyer of the local recruiting station received telegraphic orders from the surgeon general to enlist men for the hospital corps, consisting of stewards, wagoners and mechanics.

The order is considered significant of the hurried movement in the near future as the orders allow any to serve who have a common school education, whereas, heretofore men for hospital service were required to have had some experience.

CLERICAL RUMOR.

Washington, Aug. 2.—A rumor prevails in clerical circles that Bishop George Montgomery of Los Angeles, Cal., is to be transferred shortly to San Francisco as coadjutor prelate there of Archbishop Riordan, and that Mgr. James Loughlin, chancellor of the see of Philadelphia, will be appointed his successor. The information, it is said, reached this country by special letters recently, but nothing of an official nature concerning such appointments has reached the papal legation here up to date where Episcopal selections come first for promulgation.

IN CAUSE OF LABOR

Executive Committee Had a Day of Hard Work Yesterday.

LOCAL TROUBLE IS SETTLED

All Tradesmen Return to Work This Morning--Resolutions Adopted on Matters of State Interest.

Yesterday was a turbulent day for the labor organizations in Colorado Springs, and the outcome was watched anxiously from all parts of the state.

An all-day fight was necessary to settle the local trouble among the unions growing out of the refusal of *bricklayers on the Antlers job to sup*port a strike among concrete workers and helpers that occurred about two weeks ago. The bricklayers won a decided victory, but everyone is glad of the presence of the executive board of the State Federation of Labor, for, as intermediary, that body effected an amicable settlement of all differences, and this morning will find the noise of hammer and trowel again resounding throughout Colorado Springs and vicinity, and harmony prevailing among the various organizations of the assembly.

TURNED ITS ATTENTION TO STATE AFFAIRS.

In addition to the settlement of the local trouble the executive board took steps in private session to organize the state against the renomination of Justice Goddard to the supreme bench and to work against the establishment of a printing plant in the state penitentiary.

The action against Judge Goddard was incited nearly two years ago, when the eight-hour law was knocked out by the supreme court, and one of the chief aims of labor in Colorado this fall is to accomplish the safe enactment of a general eight-hour law that will stand through the courts on a test of constitutionality.

The resolutions against convict labor in general, and particularly against the establishment of a state printing plant, which idea is said to have originated in the state house in Denver, solicit the efforts of all friends of organized labor [illegible].

The action of the executive board on these matters was watched through the state, and the general strike that has been on in Colorado Springs and vicinity for five days, was about to spread to other points.

LONG FIGHT BETWEEN
BRICK LAYERS AND COUNCIL.

Early yesterday morning the union of Bricklayers (No. 4), and the Trades council assembled in separate quarters and the executive board of the State Federation began its mediation. From one body to the other they went, spending an hour or more in pleading at times. The council was determined to require the bricklayers to pay the fine of $200 that was assessed against them when they refused to enter a sympathetic strike on the Antlers. The bricklayers, in turn, held out for a remission of the fine and an honorable withdrawal from the assembly, so that they might go ahead and carry out their original intentions.

The executive committee took a little time for lunch and entered the field again, sweating, pleading and worrying between the two bodies that were yet at loggerheads. The efforts continued until after 10 o'clock last night, when the glad tidings came to groups of laborers about the streets and in the restaurants, that the trouble had been settled and all unions would go back to work this morning. The building trades which walked out on order of the Trades Council had ceased work on the Printers' home and on many other buildings about the city save the Antlers. These jobs will all be resumed this morning under the following conditions, which are to be a permanent arrangement between the council and the bricklayers:

SETTLEMENT OF TROUBLE
"AT LEAST FOR THE PRESENT."

The $200 fine imposed on the bricklayers, to be remitted, and their union to withdraw honorably from the council upon payment of $82.60, which is the aggregate of back dues and sundry expenses entailed by the council since the declaration of the strike.

Trades unions in the council may return to work on all jobs, including the Antlers.

The latter provision means that union [illegible] and continue to work. The council and the executive board of the federation believe the plan will result in a short time in the unionizing of the Antlers job.

A significant remark came from a member of the committee last night, which is taken by some to mean that the work on the Antlers will be resumed until the unions have the strength to carry out their first intention and secure higher wages for concrete workers and helpers. The remark, probably a slip of the tongue, was: "The trouble is settled, at least for the present."

The main contention of the bricklayers was that they were under agreement with their contractors that would not permit of observance of the rules of the Trades Council.

The resolutions, etc., of the federation board will be found below.

OPPOSE CONVICT LABOR

Whereas, There are renewed rumors of the purpose of those in authority to put the inmates of the state penitentiary in competition with free labor by the establishment in said penitentiary of a printing plant by which all the state printing can be done; and,

Whereas, The carrying out of such a scheme would operate to the great detriment of many industrious and upright members of the printing crafts, for the reason that it would throw them out of employment and deprive them of the means of earning a livelihood for themselves and dependents; and,

Whereas, Such a course would further operate as an injury, in that a large number of people would be taught the art of printing, book binding, etc., thus further decreasing the already limited opportunities of employment in the printing trades; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the executive board of the Colorado State Federation of Labor that we express our unalterable opposition to the establishment of any such printing plants or other remunerative industry in the state penitentiary, and declare that all public officials favoring such employment of the convicts deserve the condemnation of the working class; and, be it further

Resolved, That we reiterate the opposition of the Colorado State Federation of Labor to all forms of employment of convict labor in such manner as to bring it into competition with any and all free labor upon the public market; and, be it further

Resolved, That in this connection we warn the laboring people of Colorado against the evident purpose of the wealth-owners of the state and their sympathetic public officials to jeopardize the interest of the workers, who maintain sufficient respectability to save them from incarceration in the penitentiary, by putting the convicts at remunerative and competitive employment in order that the burden of keeping the same shall be removed from the shoulders of the taxpayers; and urge that constant vigilance be maintained in order that the defeat of these insidious schemes may be assured.

TO DOWN GODDARD

Colorado Springs, Aug. 2, 1900.

To All Affiliated Unions and Their Membership, greeting:

Fellow Workers, It having come to our knowledge that extraordinary efforts are being made by the corporation influences of the state to secure the renomination of Luther M. Goddard for the position of supreme judge; also that false statements are being made as to the decision of the supreme court on the eight-hour law, with the evident intention of misleading the public into the idea that said decision was just and proper under the constitution of the state of Colorado; and that said judges did but conscientiously perform their sworn duty in rendering such decision and consequently should be absolved of all criticism to the contrary, the executive board of the Colorado State Federation of Labor deems it but proper that we call the attention of our affiliated membership, members of all other labor organizations, their sympathizers, to the resolution passed at our annual convention recently held in Cripple Creek, upon this subject, as follows.

Whereas, Believing that through the de*cision of Judges Campbell, Goddard and* Gabbert of the Colorado state supreme court, declaring the eight-hour law, passed by the last legislature, to be unconstitutional, that the wage earners of the state were unjustly and without warrant in the constitution deprived of the humane provisions of said law, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the fifth annual convention of the Colorado State Federation of Labor places its seal of condemnation upon such a decision and upon the actions of said Judges Campbell, Goddard and Gabbert in delivering the same.

Whereas, This convention has recorded its disapproval of the decision of the Colorado supreme court on the eight-hour law and set its seal of condemnation upon Judges Campbell, Goddard and Gabbert for such decision; and,

Whereas, It has come to our knowledge that one of said judges, Luther M. Goddard, whose term is about ended, is making a strenuous effort for re-nomination and re-election to succeed himself as supreme judge; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the fifth annual convention of the Colorado State Federation of Labor, That we do most solemnly and emphatically protest against the re-nomination of said Luther M. Goddard for supreme judge or any other public office by any political party whatsoever; and be it further

Resolved, That should said Luther M. Goddard succeed in getting the re-nomination for supreme judge or a nomination for any other public office, it shall be the duty of every member of every affiliated union of this federation to do all in their power to defeat said Luther M. Goddard at the polls on election day.

In rendering the decision the state supreme court did not quote any constitutional prohibition of such an eight-hour law, but maintained their right to make such decision on the ground that it interfered with the right of contract and was a curtailment of the privileges to work as long as an employe pleased, consequently a detriment to the laborers themselves, and one from which the court should save them.

In reply to this, let us state that the working people covered by the law desired its enforcement; and also quote the words of the United States supreme court in giving a decision on identically the same question and upon the same law; holding it constitutional under the police powers of the states:

"It may not be improper to suggest in this connection that although the prosecution in this case was against the employer of labor, who, apparently under the statute, is the only one liable, his defense is not so much that his right to contract has been infringed upon, but that the act works a peculiar hardship to his employes, whose right to labor as long as they please is alleged to be thereby violated. The argument would certainly come with better grace and greater cogency from the latter class. But the fact that both parties are of full age, and competent to contract, does not necessarily deprive the state of the power to interfere where the parties do not stand upon an equality, or where the public health demands that one party to the contract shall be protected against himself. The state still retains an interest in his welfare, however reckless he may be. The whole is no greater than the sum of all the parts, and when the individual health, safety and welfare are sacrificed or neglected, the state must suffer."

Therefore we call upon our affiliated membership, all members of organized labor and sympathizers, to be alert and use every honorable endeavor to defeat the purposes of these unscrupulous corporation influences to again place Mr. Goddard upon the supreme bench for another term, believing sincerely that Mr. Goddard, should he be successful, would be under obligation to influences which would operate to the detriment of the laboring class in court decisions.

Fraternally yours,
The Executive Board of the Colorado State Federation of Labor.

NEWS ITEMS FROM DENVER

Heavy Travel Continues Through the Union Depot.

CORA HASTINGS ARRESTED

On Charges Entered By Mrs Clarinda Brinley Governor's Suggestions on State Revenue.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver, Aug. 2.—The amount of travel passing through the Denver union depot continues to be a source of keeping every one about the place busy. For two months a larger force has been required to handle the baggage and tickets than for any similar period since the depot was built. The Burlington brought in over 160 passengers this morning and the Rock Island had seven coach loads. The way that resident people line up at the gateways on the arrival of the trains from the east reminds one of carnival time. There were 6,410 more pieces of baggage handled at the depot during the month of July than during any other corresponding month since the station was established.

The City of Denver has a right to enter into a contract with the Lacomb Light company for a period of ten years. This was decided by Judge Le Fevre this morning when he handed down his opinion of the case of Perry Hubbard against the City of Denver. The case was filed over two months ago, at which time Hubbard asked that an extension be issued restraining Mayor Johnson and the [illegible] officials from entering into a contract with Chas. A. Lacomb whereby he was to supply the city with electric lights for a period of ten years at [illegible] per light. The petition was rejected.

Miss Cora Hastings recently of Colorado Springs who gained much notoriety just [illegible] in alleged fraudulent mining transactions was arrested at the Denver union depot last night as she was [illegible] a Burlington train for Chicago. She was arrested at the instigation of Mrs. Clarinda Brinley of the Paxton hotel who charges her with borrowing $1,[illegible] and 3,000 shares of mining stock which she failed to return.

Headquarters of the Republican county central committee will be opened next week. A number of district Republican clubs are being formed throughout the county to carry forward the local work of the campaign and particularly to gain as complete registration as possible. The county committeemen have urged the importance of [illegible] opened where [illegible] clubs may come for information.

The reorganization of the Northern Coal company has been going on for some time. More than a month ago it was stated in the Gazette that the Denver City Coal company had been absorbed by the big lignite concern and that the price of coal would be advanced in October. James Cannon will [illegible] to be president and it is probable that J. F. Mundy will be vice president. The bonds are being printed.

The Democratic peace committee held another session this morning, Judge Adair Wilson presiding. At its close Judge Wilson stated that nothing had been done towards accomplishing results desired and that the committee would continue to meet at 11 o'clock each day until some decision could be reached on the points at issue.

Gov. Thomas submitted his suggestions for new laws to the state revenue commission this morning.

In view of the fact that the commission and the coming legislature will be guided to some extent by the governor's recommendations they are of importance. The revenue commission will meet on Aug. 15 to consider the executive plans.

After an extended review of the state's revenue system and the causes that led to the present condition of the finances the governor says: "I think I am safe in saying that the state should have a revenue of not less than $700,000 in excess of what it has been annually enjoying during the past eight years if [illegible] its good name and administer its institutions creditably, humanely and satisfactorily."

He then outlines his recommendations which are in brief as follows:

The Illinois law which fixes property is assessed at a certain per cent of its cash value uniformly and a requirement by assessors to base their assessments accordingly and providing penalties for violations by them.

Punishment of tax dodgers or people who make a pretense of temporarily converting their holdings into non-taxable securities in order to escape taxation.

The assessment of stock of corporations to be fixed independent of that furnished by the corporations.

[illegible] county commissioners to the narrowest possible limits and the absolute prohibition of wholesale or horizontal reductions.

Providing [illegible] the failure of corporations to make complete returns of their taxable holdings.

Giving the attorney general power to prosecute all tax dodgers.

Placing a limit on the taxing power of the counties.

An income tax law as a part of the general revenue system.

Tax on franchises similar to the Roosevelt law in New York.

Increase of the insurance tax to 3 per cent.

Taxing the business of express companies on their gross receipts.

An inheritance tax similar to the Illinois statute.

Uniform tax of $10 to $15 a year on all corporations.

Allowing the state board of equalization to increase county assessments as to specific items.

A general valuation of live stock.

The taxation of mining property changed so that it will be assessed on the annual output.

Among the laws not [illegible] another assistant attorney general to look after land board affairs and particularly to see that the state's coal and timber resources are well taken care of; another increasing the number of cattle inspectors and equal laws for the protection of the dairy interests.

Mrs. Henry C. Brown, divorced last week from Henry C. Brown, the builder and for many years owner of the Brown Palace hotel, was married yesterday at noon to John Douglas Campbell, a well known mining man of Colorado. The marriage occurred in Cheyenne, Wyo.

F. C. Odell, H. J. Rolling and M. Lorig and wife of Colorado Springs are at [illegible]

I. H. Ingraham of Colorado Springs is at the Oxford.

F. G. Smith of Pueblo is at the Windsor.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Lively Run for a Fire Nearly Ends in Disaster.

MONKEYED WITH LOCOMOBILE

Flimflam Game Worked on Bar keepers — Guggenheims Receive Heavy Tonnage from Chile

Special to the Gazette.

Pueblo, Aug. 2.—While running to a fire this morning Gus Bell, [illegible] A. M. Morgan and G. W. De Bolt of hose company No. [illegible] narrowly escaped death or serious injury when the wagon overturned at the corner of C street and Union avenue. The men were making the run in [illegible] a call having been rung in from box 53. While rounding the corner the wheels of the hose wagon struck a wet place in the street [illegible] hurt [illegible] and the horses continued to run up street. Morgan the driver however held on to the lines and although he suffered a broken finger and was dragged some distance, he stopped the horses thus preventing the [illegible] from [illegible] the street and doing any damage. The fire which the company was bound for, was in the basement of the Pueblo Hardware company's store corner Fourth and Santa Fe avenue. One of the employes was attempting to light a gas jet when the head of the match flew off alighting in a bale of oakum which blazed up furiously. The flames were extinguished however before serious damage had been done.

A locomobile caused quite a little excitement late this afternoon by charging along on Fourth street without a driver. The horseless carriage was standing in front of the store into which its owner had gone when some inquisitive person got into the seat and began to play with [illegible] gave a jump and started to bolt across the street. The meddler jumped to the ground and got away from the owner. The locomobile however continued in its mad career across the street and dashed into a carriage breaking up the old fashioned vehicle. The shock threw the reverse lever and the locomobile started towards a telegraph pole with but slight diminished speed and commenced to rival the work of the linemen inclining towards the crosstrees. The owner of the vehicle at this time came out of the store, shut off the power and started on a still hunt for the meddling Tom who had interfered with his pet.

The county commissioners today made a tour of inspection through the steel works, smelters and other properties in this city in order to determine for themselves whether or not the new tax valuations have been raised to an unfair fig[illegible]

Walter Ward, a negro, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Shutz in Bessemer this morning charged with assaulting a white man with a stone. A fight occurred it is said at the change of shifts at the steel works last night between white men and negroes and Ward assaulted his victim at that time.

Under Sheriff Davis of Arapahoe county this afternoon took back to Denver Dean Burgess who is wanted for forgery in the Capital city.

Three solid trains aggregating forty cars in all came into Pueblo today over the Missouri Pacific loaded with rich ore from the Guggenheim's mines in Chile for treatment at the Guggenheim smelter, the Philadelphia. This is the second large [illegible] from the Chili mines to Pueblo for treatment in the past month. The bullion after the ore is extracted is again shipped in bond to Perth Amboy, N. J., where it is refined and exported.

The inquest over the body of James Person who was [illegible] in La Veta pass last Sunday so badly that he died Monday evening, was begun today. But three witnesses were examined however and the jury, which is made up of the same men who are investigating the death of [illegible] Gullet, adjourned until some witnesses come up from Costilla county.

James Morin, James McGowan and Frank Murray today worked on two saloons a clever piece of flimflamming. The Greenlight and Redlight saloons frequented chiefly by white men were easy marks but the Palace saloon, a negro resort, was not so easy. The plan of procedure which [illegible] was for one of them to call for drinks for the three and to pay for the refreshments with a silver dollar, the [illegible] giving 85 cents in each case in change. After downing the drinks the men would start for the door and one of them as though recollecting something would go back to the barkeeper and tell him that he [illegible] for the dollar marked on its face with a cross—which was a luck piece. Sure enough the coin was so marked and the man after getting it in return would pay for his refreshments with 15 cents of the 85 [illegible] received already in change. In the hurry of supplying customers two barkeepers were thus cheated. The negro in the Palace saloon was more foxy however and had one of the men arrested, the other two making good their escape. Officer Forsee arrested [illegible] on in the afternoon. They will explain their new rule of arithmetic to a magistrate in a day or so.

Thomas Skeldon of Denver is in the city.

[illegible] representative of the Armour Packing company, is down from Denver.

G. Longmore, an old time ranchman, is in from Nepesta and is stopping at the Farris.

W. A. Gatter of Colorado Springs was in town this afternoon.

R. [illegible] Orr left this morning for New York city.

M. [illegible] leaves [illegible] a few days for Wisconsin.

RANCHMAN INJURED

Ernest McCary Living Near Boulder, Seriously Hurt by a Mower

Special to the Gazette.

Boulder, Aug. 2.—Ernest M[illegible], a young man of 21 living between here and Longmont, received serious [illegible] this afternoon while adjusting a mowing machine.

The horses became frightened and the guards struck both his legs, [illegible] cutting the flesh and breaking one bone.

Young McCary was carried to the house [illegible]

He is now under the care of a surgeon.

BOMB EXPLOSION

New York, Aug. 2.—A bomb was accidentally exploded in a vault of the old city hall now used as a recorder's court in Paterson, N. J., today. The loud report caused a sensation and a report that anarchists had attempted to wreck the city hall quickly became current. No one was seriously hurt.

A small dynamite bomb which was seized by the police from an Italian [illegible] was placed in the vault by the police for safe keeping, was accidentally kicked by one of the city officials and the explosion followed.

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Republican Meeting Addressed by McClellan of Washington D. C.

GRADERS' STRIKE SETTLED

Women Wanted in Denver for Larceny—School Board Enjoined from Paying an Attorney

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Aug. 2.—The McKinley Republican club held a well attended meeting in the district court room this evening. Senator Hartzell of Denver for some reason unknown to the committee was unable to be present. W. B. McClellan, formerly a resident of this district, but who for the last two years has resided in Washington, D. C., was in the city and was prevailed upon to deliver the address of the evening.

The strike on the Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District railway was settled today, Dumphy and Nelson, the contractors, agreeing to pay the scale of $2.50 a day for common laborers and $3 a day for rock men for an eight hour day. The men went to work this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at 5:30 when the four hours for the half day had been consumed stopped work as the representative of the union demanded.

Sarah Cashmaker, Lon Ward and Frank and John Doe were arrested at Goldfield today on the charge of selling liquor without a license. Mrs. Cashmaker some time ago as well as her husband was arrested on the same charge and they were convicted and fined for the offense. The parties arrested today gave bonds for their appearance for the preliminary hearing.

Captain Armstrong of the Denver police force telephoned police headquarters tonight that a detective will arrive here in the morning to take back to the capital city the two women arrested here last night on instructions of the chief of police of Denver. [illegible] begun suit in the district court against the school board of district No. 1 and the secretary of the school board asking an injunction to restrain them from paying money to anyone as an attorney for the board. Judge Seeds issued a temporary injunction in the case to restrain the board until final hearing. The object of the suit is to dispense with the luxury of an attorney.

There were two family disturbances heard in police court tonight. The defendant in one case was Anna Mauss. Her husband was prosecuting witness and opposed his wife bitterly. She was fined $5 and costs. In the other case Helen Frost was arrested last Saturday night by Officer Jacobs. According to the officer's testimony, she created a disturbance [illegible] throwing [illegible] at her husband until she had him pretty thoroughly frightened. Jacobs testified that Frost at the time was anxious to have the woman placed in custody but in police court tonight Frost denied this and said that the disturbance was all his own fault. He thought the officer had [illegible] imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

Mrs. Hazelhurst of Colorado Springs who has been visiting her husband Dr. Samuel Hazelhurst in this city for a few weeks, returned home this afternoon.

Mrs. R. M. Elliott and daughter Edith returned today from a two months stay in Canon City.

ANACONDA

Special to the Gazette.

Anaconda, Aug. 2.—The house occupied by Ben Birdsee on Blue Bell avenue caught fire at 3 o'clock this afternoon and burned to the ground. The house with all its contents is a total loss amounting in all to about $[illegible]. The origin of the fire is not definitely known but Mrs. Birds thinks it caught from the overheated kitchen stove. She had just started a fire with which to get supper and with her child stepped in to call on the next door neighbor. The fire was not discovered until the interior of the house was filled with flames. The alarm of fire was then [illegible] and the fire department was soon on the scene and did excellent work. The house was so nearly consumed however that their efforts were directed to protecting and saving the buildings near by. The house [illegible] was fully searched but the excellent work of the fire boys dispelled the fears of the people that the whole town would be consumed by fire.

Joe Tagert, 22 years of age, who has been paying attention to Miss Lizzie Gay, the 17-year-old daughter of George Gay, called on the young woman last night. Mr. Gay for some time past has objected to the attention and last night helped the young man out of the house by the toe of his boot. He then attempted to keep [illegible] Tagert [illegible] picked up a stone and threw it at Mr. Gay. The stone struck the old gentleman on the wrist and broke it. This morning Gay swore out a warrant for the arrest of Tagert charging him with assault. At the hearing this afternoon Gay was so intoxicated that he could not give his testimony and the case was dismissed.

The subject of coupon ticket used on the two railroads in the district has caused and continually causes considerable trouble. The railroad companies place a limit beyond which these tickets shall not be accepted by the conductors for transportation. Occasionally a passenger resident in the district desires to go outside of the district and calls on the ticket agent for a ticket to the destination [illegible] makes a mistake and hands out coupon tickets. The passenger not knowing the rules of the company accepts the coupon and innocently presents it to the conductor. The conductor refuses to accept them beyond the point prescribed by the railroad company. Last Sunday such a mistake occurred on rather a large scale. Ten people desired to go to Alta Vista to spend the day on the hills. They called on the ticket agent at the Anaconda station of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad for tickets to Alta Vista. He sold them the coupon tickets amounting in all to $4. It happened that the conductor did not call for the tickets from the ten passengers until the train was beyond Victor. He then informed them that they had the wrong tickets. They told him it was what the agent gave them and they had no other. The conductor would not accept the tickets except for passage from Anaconda to Victor and threatened to put the passengers off. As reports have it there was pretty warm talk between the passengers and the conductor in which the conductor had the best of it. At least the passengers say he was quite abusive especially considering that there were six ladies in the party.

ELKTON

Special to the Gazette.

Elkton, Aug. 2.—Larvin Soule and James Atkins employed on the Elkton mine were injured Tuesday while descending to the 400 foot level in the cage. They [illegible] some shots having been fired during their absence. The cage caught on some timbers which had been loosened by the force of the explosions. A plank struck Soule in the face, knocking off considerable skin and bruising his left arm and side. Atkins sustained a smashed finger on the left hand. There were fourteen other men in the cage none of whom were injured.

Mrs. [illegible] is under the care of Dr. Hereford of Cripple Creek.

Miss Florence Lusen has returned from a month's visit to Denver.

Mrs. Robinson, who took a relapse last week, is again improving.

The track of the new railroad is completed to Eclipse Gulch and the trolley poles are being put in place.

FLORENCE

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, Aug. 2.—The building and loan association which is being organized by local people is progressing nicely. All detail arrangements are nearly completed. The association will be ready for business in about two weeks. The stock will sell at $1 per share and each stockholder will [illegible]. The object of the organization is to encourage more new buildings and homes. Florence is at present suffering from a scarcity of houses. People are compelled to live in shacks for no other reason than the inability of securing better.

Sam Cronk has been awarded a contract by B. Clark Wheeler of Aspen, who has been in the city for the past week, to build a rig and drill a well for oil for him in Routt county, where he has leased 6,000 acres of mineral land. The cost of the first well will be about $[illegible]. Mr. Cronk has also a contract from the Routt County Improvement company of this city. Operations will be begun shortly. It is expected as the contractor will leave Florence for the oil fields next week.

The Colorado Telephone company will begin in a few days planting poles preparatory to connecting the Portland Cement works by wire with this city. At the cement works everything is lively. About 300 barrels of the product are being shipped daily to different points east and west. About fifty men are being employed and a postoffice has been established by the government. The new postoffice is known as Portland.

A number of inquiries have come from teachers in [illegible] Fremont and Custer counties in regard to accommodations during the institute which will be held in this city from August 6 to 17. In speaking to Professor Durfee, principal of the city schools, he stated that arrangements for board and room for 125 teachers have been perfected as well as other minor details. A number of them [illegible] arrive Sunday but the most of them will arrive Monday and Tuesday.

The London Market

New York, Aug. 2.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram: The idleness in the markets here was not relieved today and such dealings as there were had no feature, though the tone was steady. Baltimore and Ohio was weak on rumors of dissensions in the board which were current before the dividend announcement. Paris bought Tintos in connection with the bourse settlement. The bank bought £19,000 gold in bars.

The Metal Market.

New York, Aug. 2.—Coffee—Spot—Rio weak, No. 7 invoice 9¼, mild quiet, Cordova nominal.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Wheat opened with a material decline, initial trading in the September option ranging from 75¾ to 75½ compared with yesterday's closing at 75¾@[illegible]. Liverpool cables showing little or no advance at that [illegible] Sept advanced to 75⅝ but when the closing Liverpool quotations showed a decline of ¾@⅞d the market again turned weak and from that time until the close of the session the tendency was downward.

Corn was weak and lower all day and very dull.

Oats were dull and a trifle easier though the decline was small in view of the weakness of other grains.

Provisions were fairly active and irregular.

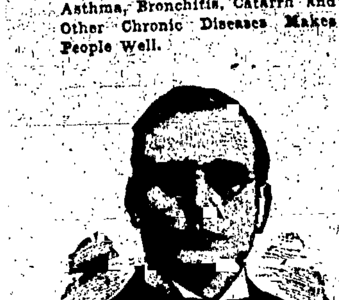
KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Age and Experience, Linked with Skill, Science and Responsibility, Fix a New Hope for Suffering Humanity to Guide Invalids to Health—Dr. Ellison's Successful Treatment for Consumption Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh and Other Chronic Diseases Makes People Well.



Colorado Springs and vicinity not only excel in scenic grandeur but are keeping in the front ranks in the steady and rapid march of all scientific achievements. In music, art, educational and medical triumphs, she stands without a peer. Dr. Ellison has upheld Colorado Springs' fame in the department of medical science, known as the specialty treatment of chronic diseases, in the curing of so many chronic maladies. Dr. Ellison claims that if one disease is curable others should be, and if a physician only knows how to relieve a portion of the ills which affect mankind under ordinary circumstances, then he has been derilect and has frittered away precious time on things of minor importance regarding the true mission of the doctor of medicine. To know how to cure a few chronic diseases is better than to understand the pathology of a hundred; and this is just what Dr. Ellison has devoted years of his professional life to accomplish. He does not scatter his forces over the entire field of medicine, but devotes his entire professional time to the special treatment of consumption, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, hay fever and chronic diseases of men women and children. In the last two years hundreds of consumptives have been treated by Dr. Ellison's sulphur treatment and there have only been three deaths in this length of time. If you cannot come to his office, write to the doctor. This treatment can be used at your home. Office 24 North Tejon street (over Craigue's grocery store). Office hours 9 to 12 in the forenoon, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 8 in the evening.

SPECIAL NOTICE Dr. Ellison gives free consultation and examination every day except Sundays, from 11 to 12 a. m. and from 4 to 5 p. m.

PUT TO THE TEST.

Colorado Springs People Appreciate a Good Thing.

Everybody has their hour of trouble.
But people having any itchiness of the skin
Have many hours of trouble
Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating.
Scratch it, it becomes worse.
Leave it alone and you can hardly stand the misery.
Itchiness comes in many forms.
Eczema and horrid itching piles.
Relief and cure are here at last.
Colorado Springs has put it to the test.
Doan's Ointment cures every form of itchiness of the skin.
People at home are learning that this is so.
Here is a proof in a citizen's statement.

Mr. E. H. Dowher of 515 South Cascade avenue, says: "Itching hemorrhoids annoyed me for 20 years and for at least 10 years were chronic. I was never free from misery and do what I liked I was unable to obtain relief. Now, when Doan's Ointment procured at the Smith-Wilson Drug Co's. store 31 Tejon street so greatly benefitted an old and stubborn case of hemorrhoids like mine, I conscientiously believe that in the earlier stages the treatment will prove invincible. I never received as much benefit from any remedy I ever used."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Forster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's— and take no substitute.

Clothes cleaned $1.50 per suit, called for and delivered. Hunter, 107 N. Tejon.

NEWS AND NOTES OF COLORADO CITY

A change has been made in the position of local surgeon for the Colorado Midland at Colorado City. Dr. C. J. Turpin, who has held the appointment for several years past has resigned and Dr. C. B. Ammerman, a prominent physician of Colorado City has been chosen to take his place. The change went into effect yesterday morning when Dr. Ammerman assumed the duties of his new position and Dr. Turpin's resignation became effective. The position of local surgeon at Colorado City is one of great responsibility. The physician holding the appointment takes charge of all cases which result from accidents in the shops or on the trains running over this division of the road. He also conducts all examinations of engineers, firemen, conductors and other trainmen which are held whenever directed.

Dr. Ammerman, the newly appointed surgeon is one of the most prominent physicians at Colorado City. He was appointed to the same position when the Colorado Midland shops were built and held it until 1894 when he resigned and removed to another part of the State. He has had a great amount of experience and will doubtless prove thoroughly competent and satisfactory to all employes who may come under his care.

The position was offered to him about ten days ago but he asked to have a week in which to carefully consider the proposition. A few days ago he made an offer to the officials of the road and it was accepted. He received his appointment Tuesday afternoon and the change was made yesterday morning.

Mr. W. D. Ascough, treasurer of the committee appointed by the mayor to solicit subscriptions for the India famine sufferers, reports excellent returns. He has received so far $40.22 in cash and $21.45 in pledges, making a total of $61.67. He expects to raise $250 within the next two weeks.

The committee in charge of soliciting contributions is composed of Chas. E. Corporan, Ernest Waycott, John Morgan, A. E. Ott, J. H. McNider, W. Gesford and J. R. Goff.

An interesting meeting of Pike's Peak Lodge No. 12, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, was held last Monday afternoon in the Knights of Pythias hall. Mr. C. W. Maier, third vice-grandmaster, from Parsons, Kansas, was present and made an enthusiastic address. Several important matters were discussed.

In the evening a social session was held. A large number of members and their families were present. Mr. Maier gave another interesting address, illustrated by stereopticon views, shown under calcium light.

Twenty five members of the local Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors went to Pueblo yesterday morning to attend a meeting of the Grand Lodge which is being held there. The session opened yesterday morning and will be continued through today. The ladies from here will return this evening.

The special committee recently appointed by Mayor George to investigate the advisability of annexing several new additions which are now outside the limits of the city held a preliminary meeting Tuesday evening in the council room at the city hall. The entire committee consisting of J. B. Stephens, W. P. Epperson, C. E. Corporan, Councilmen Miller and Allam and City Attorney Ingraham was present. Mr. J. B. Stephens was elected chairman and Mr. W. P. Epperson was chosen to act as clerk.

The matter was discussed at length and the opinion of the city attorney as to all points of law in regard to the proposed annexations was submitted. The committee finally decided to meet Saturday afternoon and go in a body to the various additions for the purpose of outlining the territory to be annexed. After performing this part of the work the committee will draft a resolution providing for the annexation of the several additions and submit it to the city council at its next regular meeting.

The school board has decided to have all the outside woodwork on the Bancroft building repainted. Bids for the work have been received and the board will hold a meeting this evening to let the contract. A contract has already been let to repaint the entire outside of the Midland building.

Mr. Joe Bates, who has been a clerk in the store room department at the Colorado Midland offices for several years past was appointed yesterday to the position of chief clerk in the same department. He will take the place of Mr. H. Hobbs, who has been removed to Denver to assume charge of the disbursement desk in the auditor's offices.

Mrs. R. T. Godfrey left for Grant City, Mo., last Monday morning in answer to a message announcing the serious illness of her mother. She will remain indefinitely.

Miss Carrie Sweet of Florence, is in the city to remain several months. She will enter Cutler academy at Colorado Springs next month.

Misses Frances and Evelyn Powell are attending the Normal Institute, now in session at the high school at Colorado Springs.

Mr. N. A. Floyd, who was seriously injured a few weeks ago as a result of being struck by a street car, is improving slowly. He is able to be out of doors, but is still under the doctor's care. Mrs. Floyd and Mrs. Smith, who were injured in the same accident have recovered entirely.

Mr. S. W. Thompson and family of Needles, California, are in the city for a few weeks visit.

Mr. W. P. Epperson went to Denver yesterday morning on business.

Mr. A. C. Blinn and wife returned yesterday to Dodge City, Kansas, after spending a few weeks visiting with relatives in this city.

Mr. A. E. Ott intends to go to Denver this morning to meet his mother and sister of Glasgow, Kansas, who are on their way to this city to spend a few weeks.

Mrs. Frank Drew pleasantly entertained a few friends last Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday. An enjoyable evening was spent. Refreshments were served.

Mr. Ed. Thresher of Omaha, is visiting with Dr. C. J. Turpin and wife, during a few days stay in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. England are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine new baby girl born to them yesterday.

Miss Emma Wieman, a well known teacher in the city schools, left yesterday morning for Salt Lake, where she will visit for a few weeks.

Mr. J. C. Bates went to Aspen Tuesday morning to look after business interests.

Postmaster J. F. Morgan of the postoffice at Colorado City has recently been granted special privileges which will doubtless prove a great help in the work of his office. He has lately been authorized to cash money orders upon any city in the United States and to pay all orders without being required to wait until the advice is received. Heretofore he has not been able to cash money orders unless they were made payable at his office and in each case he was required to wait until receiving advice before cashing any orders. He states that the privileges which have been recently granted him will be greatly appreciated by all patrons of his office. Tourists who have money orders on other cities can now have them cashed at the office at Colorado City.

NEWS AND NOTES OF MANITOU

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church is holding a "sample" sale at the National hotel on Manitou avenue. The ladies have secured a large number of samples from manufacturers all over the United States and they are now disposing of them at a public sale. The samples include preserves, pickles, oatmeal, baking powder, soda, and various notions. The ladies have been quite successful in their efforts. They commenced the sale Wednesday afternoon and within a few hours they disposed of $40 worth of goods. The sale will be continued until all the samples are sold. The entire amount of receipts will be given into the church fund.

The postoffice at Manitou has been granted special privileges which will doubtless prove greatly accommodating to the people of that place and to the tourists who are now visiting in that vicinity. Postmaster Grafton has recently been authorized to cash money orders drawn upon any city in the United States. He has also been granted the privilege of cashing money orders without waiting for the advice which is sent by the office writing the order. Mr. Grafton greatly appreciates the favors shown Manitou by the department.

The Manitou town council will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday evening at the town hall. Regular monthly business will be transacted.

Mr. John Halpin, chief of detectives in Kansas City, is spending a few days visiting with his family in Manitou.

President H. S. Cable of the Manitou and Pike's Peak Cog road left Wednesday evening for his home in Rock Island, Ill., after visiting for several days in Manitou.

Prof. William F. Wentworth, a prominent reader and monologist of Boston, will give an entertainment next Thursday evening at the Congregational church. He has prepared a most interesting programme for the occasion. He will be assisted by several young ladies in costume. The Christian Endeavor society of the church will have charge of the entertainment. The proceeds will be devoted to increasing the general church fund.

Mr. G. A. Prentiss, manager of the Hot Springs hotel at Canon City, was in Manitou last Tuesday for a few hours' visit.

Rev. Dr. Cameron Mann, rector of the Grace Episcopal church in Kansas City, was in Manitou last Tuesday for a brief visit. He was on his way home from Aspen, Colo.

The Denver & Rio Grande road will run another excursion to the famous Royal Gorge next Monday. A special train will leave Manitou at 8 o'clock in the morning and returning will arrive at 6 o'clock in the evening. Passengers will be given an opportunity to visit the state penitentiary at Canon City.

Special services will be held next Sunday at the St. Andrews' Episcopal church. Rev. W. H. Bonell, the rector, will conduct the services. In the morning the "Feast of the Transfiguration" will be observed.

Mr. S. J. Crawford and family of Topeka, Kan., are expected to arrive in Manitou this morning to spend the remainder of the season here. They have taken the Ellis cottage on Manitou avenue, for the season.

Mr. E. E. Nichols, Jr., of the Cliff house has just purchased what is commonly known as the "Tootle" property on Grand avenue. It is one of the most desirable building sites in Manitou, and was formerly a part of the residence property of Mr. John J. Tootle of St. Joseph, Mo. The rear of the lots is occupied by a fine large barn. Mr. Nichols states that he will soon commence the erection of a fine new cottage on the property.

A. HUYSER PURCHASES A NORTH END HOME

Mr. Chas. P. Bennett yesterday consummated another real estate transaction which insures another handsome residence site to Colorado Springs. The deal transfers to Arie Huyser, the well known broker, the nine room house and grounds 100 by 190 feet in size at 1814 North Cascade avenue, formerly the home of John Alexander Gill.

Mr. Gill left here some seven or eight years ago and since that time the place has been somewhat run down. It will be put in strictly first class shape by Mr. Huyser, however, and will soon be numbered among the many handsome home-sites in the city.

Sunday, August 12th, is the day that has been decided upon by the Colorado Springs Wheel club for their first annual road race from Woodland Park to Cascade. This promises to be a rare treat for the people of this vicinity. A great many very valuable prizes will be given away for the winners of this race. All entries can be handed in to Mr. Art McKeehan at Briscoe's store, and he will also give all other information.

Announcement

One of the most interesting men in the State is Simon Guggenheim He is a philanthropist, a superior business man, a friend to the plain people a man with a big heart Phonolyte has written about him as a Gubernatorial Possibility and the article will appear in Sunday's Gazette

ADVERTISERS SHOULD NOT BE BLACKMAILED.

MR CHARLES F BENNETT is one of the most successful and level headed business men of Colorado Springs No man in this community is his superior in honest dealing or in truthfulness of statement

Mr Bennett has been engaged in the real estate business in this city for some ten years and he has always done his full share of the business pertaining to his particular line He has of necessity made newspaper advertising somewhat of a scientific study and he has the courage to refuse absolutely to advertise in papers that do not bring satisfactory results He very properly figures that it is better to advertise liberally in a first class newspaper of large general circulation at a good rate for such advertising than to advertise in an inferior one of doubtful character and standing at a much lower rate

In no other line of business are men so critically judged by the public as they are in the character of the newspaper in which they advertise Upon their choice in that line often depends their success or failure in business

Advertisers too often think that if they carry an ad in one of two papers in a community they must of necessity carry the same ad in the other paper or such paper will in some malicious and spiteful way injure them or their business

Such fears are thoroughly weak and fanciful In the first place, no reputable newspaper would stoop to such methods and in the second place the blackmailing character of the sheets that pursue such tactics is so well understood in every community where they are published that they have not the slightest harmful effect upon any person against whom their mercenary shafts are directed and to have any business connections with such publications cannot fail to injure

Mr Bennett clearly presents to the people of Colorado Springs in his able letter published in the Gazette yesterday morning the sound business policy which should control every advertiser

He says "I HAVE MORE THAN ONCE HOWEVER, WHEN PRESSED FOR A REASON FOR NOT PATRONIZING THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF THE EVENING TELEGRAPH TOLD ITS REPRESENTATIVES THAT I DID NOT LIKE THE TONE OF THE PAPER AND THAT WHEN I HAD TRIED ADVERTISING IN IT I HAD NOT BEEN AWARE OF ANY BENEFIT THEREFROM WHILE I HAD ALWAYS HEARD FROM MY ADVERTISEMENTS IN THE GAZETTE"

Mr Bennett's statement has been made to the Gazette in varying form by fully twenty other advertisers during the past four months

It stands to reason that it is perfectly true The Gazette reaches all classes of people in Colorado Springs and vicinity and also several thousand other people outside of the city, who are led to come here for a time or permanently from reading the columns of the Gazette Almost every person in this city who reads a daily newspaper takes the Gazette as the home paper The reasons for this are most abundant In the first place it is a newspaper and not an organ In the second place it treats every person fairly and considerately In the third place it discusses men and measures decently and with decorum In the fourth place it does not undertake to influence by personalities and blackguardism but by reason and argument In the fifth place it treats political opponents fairly and gives the news of all political parties in a thoroughly impartial manner

One has but to read the Gazette a very short time to discover that the above is its unvarying policy

It believes this community is sensible and decent enough to demand that kind of newspaper AND THAT IT WILL NOT LONG SUPPORT ANY OTHER KIND

Yesterday morning the Gazette was the only daily paper in Colorado Springs that gave any account of Wednesday's session of the Ohio Democratic clubs at Toledo It also gave the speech of John P Altgeld in answer to Governor Roosevelt

When the Democrats held their recent state convention in Denver the Gazette gave the only complete report printed by any daily paper in Colorado Springs of the proceedings and the official statements of the factional differences in the party

The Gazette is a Republican paper BUT IT IS FIRST A NEWSPAPER AND IT UNDERTAKES TO CONVINCE BY ARGUMENT AND NOT BY VILIFICATION Democrats Populists Silver Republicans and Prohibitionists will always find fair treatment in the columns of the Gazette and also the news [illegible] their meetings or other doings

It is this policy which has built up the present enormous circulation of the Gazette—a circulation greater by far than exists in any city of this size in the American union and three times as many in proportion to population as the most successful of the Denver dailies

An advertisement in the Gazette reaches every person in this community besides several hundred people outside this state not reached by other Colorado publications as well as several thousand in the state but outside this city

The wise advertiser should therefore follow the courageous and business like example of Mr Bennett and increase his space in the Gazette so as to make his ad perfectly complete to the reading public He might also well and profitably invest his money in advertising in the excellent weekly and monthly publications issued [illegible] has a large and influential circulation of a special and distinct character

In other words advertising should be like any other business and no person should feel compelled to buy that which he does not want.

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE FILIPINOS.

THE Democratic party today is composed of hostile divergent and inconsistent elements Its old line Democrats are the ultra conservatives of the nation, its Populist Democrats are the ultra radicals Upon every public question of importance it is committed to inconsistent policies and its platform was adopted with the purpose of securing the adherence of quarrelsome factions who have no other principles in common than a constant opposition to everything that the Republican party is doing and a desire to get into the public offices and to hold the public power

Heaven help the country if this motley aggregation of discordant cranks reformers and old fogies ever succeed in beguiling the American people into making another experiment with their kind of government!

Several Democratic inconsistencies have already been presented to Gazette readers Here follows another one

"We hold" says the Democratic platform "that the constitution follows the flag and denounce the doctrine that an executive or a congress deriving their existence and power from the people exercises unlawful authority beyond it, in violation of it

"The Filipinos" declares this same platform "cannot be citizens without endangering our civilization they cannot be subjects without imperilling our form of government and as we are not willing to surrender our civilization or to convert the republic into an empire we favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give to the Filipinos first a stable government second independence and third protection from interference, such as has been given for nearly a century to the republics of Central and South America"

The first quotation asserts in effect that the Filipinos are already under the American constitution with constitutional rights the second that they can not be incorporated into our nation without imperilling our civilization or form of government.

To understand how the Democratic party came to involve itself in such an inconsistency it is necessary to revert to the days of the war when the Democracy was endeavoring in every possible way to detract from the triumph of a successful Republican administration After using every endeavor to plunge the country into a war for which we were not prepared, it tried when war did come to embarrass the administration by refusing to vote necessary supplies and criticized every petty detail of subordinate mismanagement as though these were the most important facts of the campaign The magnificent victories of the navy and of the army and the destruction of Spanish power in a time wonderfully brief and at a [illegible] left the Democracy hard-pressed for campaign material in our foreign affairs while the magnificent demonstration of Republican prosperity under a protective tariff gave them no domestic opportunity

Their best chance as the Democratic leaders in congress saw it lay in the Philippines and they began to cast around to find materials for their case Their best argument against the retention of the islands was the ten millions of semi barbarous or savage population, whose possible immigration to this country might appeal as an argument to those fearing the competition of cheap labor, and about this time we began to hear a great deal from Democrats along the line that Filipino citizens must have the right of domicile in this country and that they were ready to come hither in swarms

Nevertheless the peace commission arranged the [illegible] by the senate by a two thirds vote eight Democrats and seven third party senators concurring and William J Bryan using his personal influence to secure the ratification

BY THAT VOTE OF THE SENATE AND BY NOTHING ELSE WAS THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES ESTABLISHED OVER THE PHILIPPINES AND BY IT ACCORDING TO THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES WAS EXTENDED TO THEM AND THE FILIPINOS BECAME INHABITANTS OF THE UNITED STATES AND ENTITLED TO ALL THE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES SECURED TO SUCH PERSONS BY THAT CONSTITUTION

By that treaty Spain ceded the Philippines to the United States and it was further provided that the civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territories ceded to the United States shall be determined by congress The Democratic doctrine that the constitution follows the flag is inconsistent with our national policy and practice in the past and it is also at variance with the treaty with Spain which leaves it to congress and not to the constitution to determine the civil rights and political status of the people of Puerto Rico and the Philippines

If the Democratic principle of the extension of the constitution is correct then the people of Puerto Rico and the Philippines are [illegible] in the [illegible] of constitutional rights and privileges and we have no more right to deprive them of what has been given to them by the United States through its senate than we have to release from responsibility or deprive of civil rights and political status any others of the inhabitants of the United States

The Democratic platform and Democratic speakers are talking as though the treaty of peace was still before the country for argument

It is not It has been adopted as stated above and the people of the Philippines and of Puerto Rico are either inhabitants of the United States with constitutional rights already guaranteed to them as the Democratic platform indicates or, they are as the Republican party holds awaiting the action of congress under the treaty and they are in the same position as were the inhabitants of Louisiana and other newly acquired territories in the interim between their acquisition and action by congress

If the constitution follows the flag the Democratic party has no more right to guarantee the independence of the Filipinos than to do the same thing for the New Mexicans or Alaskans

The cession of the Philippines Puerto Rico and Guam to the United States is an accomplished fact duly ratified by the proper authority This territory belongs to us as much as any other territory and it does not lessen our hold upon it to declare as the Democrats are doing that this cession involves the protection of the constitution for its inhabitants On the contrary it strengthens the claim that the United States ought not to relinquish a part of itself

Independent self government is not and cannot be a right under the constitution It can only be secured to any part of the union once under the constitution by a secession and a subversion of the constitution so far as it applies to that particular part

The Republican doctrine of the paramount power of congress in such circumstances agrees with the treaty is consistent with our past practice and in the present instance leaves us free to do whatever is best for the Filipinos and for ourselves The Democratic theory commits us to the alternative of subjugation or surrender to rebels

If the constitution does follow the flag then the Democratic proposition is to give independence to an [illegible] who are fighting [illegible]

If the constitution follows the flag then the Philippines are already incorporated as a part of the [illegible] territory under the constitution and only the force of military power should be sufficient to cause us to relinquish what has become a part of our nation's self.

SQUIRE RUBE'S EXPERIENCE

Gol durn me!
Consarndest thing I ever see
Me an Marthy tother day
Druv t town wi my old gray
That ol hoss ain't dead you bet
Jes some ginger in him yet
We wus drivin daown th streets
Careful like when here we meets
Feller in a right smart rig
Goin like a shot by jig!
Made me wish I wus t hum
When I seen thet machine come
No hoss in front es I could find
Nothin pushin from behind
But by gum How it did go
How'd it run I wanter know?
Well—es I wus bout t say
I hed fun wi my ol gray
When she seen thet ornery thing
She jes give one pow'ful spring
Snorted like my Durham bull—
Did no good fer me t pull—
Twixt her teeth she grabbed th bit
An then out fer home she lit
Never slackened up, by darn
Till she landed in th barn
Gosh I ain't been skeered so bad
Sence th fust time I wus dad
Marthy's head ain't been jes right
Sence she got thet awful fright

(Chicago Inter Ocean)

The policy of the United States in China pleases neither the selfish European powers nor the American editorial fault finders The other day the Vienna press teemed with censures of the United States for condoning the German minister's murder by treating Minister Wu with courtesy Now certain newspapers in Berlin scold America for presuming to go ahead in China before the European powers adjust their differences

The first duty of the United States is to save the lives of Minister Conger and other Americans in China They are menaced by an insurrection which [illegible] may not have been countenanced by the Chinese government In the initial movements the United States did its full part [illegible] Peking When Minister Conger's first message was received six days ago our state department at once proposed that the allied forces at Tien tsin advance immediately to Peking and rescue the legations The European powers have [illegible] refused to move The United States unhampered by intrigues or European concert was about to order forward its own troops when the Chinese emperor's appeal for mediation arrived This offered a way of saving our people without taking the chance of a hasty advance on Peking The United States is taking the most direct means of performing its primary duty that of saving its people in China It [illegible] in [illegible] mouths to criticise the only western power that enters China with clean hands

The Chinese emperor's appeal is either made in good faith or it is not The American answer puts Chinese good faith to a positive and immediate test If China complies with President McKinley's conditions—produces Minister Conger alive and shows that it is protecting Americans—then we shall know that China has been acting in good faith If China does not comply with these conditions then we shall have conclusive proof that China has been acting in bad faith and will take measures accordingly Nothing can possibly be lost and much may be gained by putting Chinese good faith to this test If Minister Conger is dead his murder occurred some time ago when nothing [illegible] could have saved him If he is alive then the road to an adjustment of the whole trouble will be at once open

The course of the United States has been straightforward and in the interest of all the co operating powers So far there has been nothing to irritate Russia Germany or England The United States by virtue of its position as a world power friendly to all European powers as well as to Japan and China is playing a conspicuous part in events of universal interest and of the greatest importance There is reason in this why Europeans should be jealous but no reason why Americans should be petulant

The Privy Council of England

The final price of order is neither local autonomy nor executive, as distinguished from legislative supervision says Talcott Williams in the August Atlantic but a uniform administration of law In the last resort under every rule the safety of life the security of property and the protection of rights rests in the courts If their adjudication is just uniform and [illegible] within that area however wide men will prosper under like conditions and in the end reach a common peace prosperity and development While in all else in its tariff [illegible] its administrative machinery its legislature and its legislation its executive and its several civil liberties the different portions of the British empire differ in detail and in principle in theory and in practice all its courts end in a common appeal to the judicial committee of Privy [illegible] made up of [illegible] persons selected from the great judicial offices of the state and two judges from India or the colonies

This final tribunal is not an English court but its membership is made up from the men who sit in the great English courts and their decisions are part of the great stream of English law though the statute they construe may in India be an institute of Menu or a Mohammedan tradition in Ceylon Dutch law [illegible] the [illegible] Turkish law and in Australia English common law from the foundation of the colony In the last resort these multifarious systems and these multitudinous [illegible] common [illegible] strict application operation and administration by the possibility of an appeal to London The august jurisdiction once confined to the Isle of Jersey where it was first exercised in 1852 and extended by parity and precedent to our own colonial courts now hears appeals from over [illegible] appeals but our own supreme court

This appellate jurisdiction maintains [illegible] an balance of civil and [illegible] final justice over a fifth of the human race and for a fifth of the territory allotted to man on this planet When [illegible] of the relations of the British empire we draw near the ultimate cause of its puissance it does not rest in its navy in its army in the skill of its executive or in the wisdom of its parliament neither its far flung battle-line nor its thunders on the deep preserve the secret of its power In the end, it rests in this quiet room where four or five men learned in the law sit behind a table maintaining that great stream of precedent which safely and surely yields justice for all men under the twin flags of our common race

Exit William Waldorf Astor

The utter collapse of William Waldorf Astor's social campaign in England is highly pleasing to his former countrymen of America who have watched the career of this self expatriated snob with a keen interest Astor was relinquished with few regrets It was readily recognized that he lacked the essentials of true Americanism that he was ashamed of his thrifty ancestors So it was generally agreed that England was welcome to him and perhaps it was with a secret hope that he would pall on the English taste that he was speeded abroad The inevitable has happened With a personal newspaper at his elbow with unlimited wealth at his command Mr Astor had he been really worthy of recognition by the aristocracy of England would easily have made his way But he went at the proposition on a wrong basis He tried to bully rag England into acknowledgment of his worth forgetting that mere ostentation and an assertion of culture do not constitute the gentleman There may be some very rotten places in the British aristocracy There are known to be some hideous flaws in the structure of London society But it is to its credit that it has repudiated this man as unworthy of companionship The prospect is that Mr Astor will become a wanderer on the face of the earth that most wretched of all men a man without a country —Washington Star

A New Memory System.

My friend Micah Miggles has a system of mnemonics all his own When he wishes to remember one word he thinks of another that may sound quite different but that bears some relation of ideas to the word he seeks to retain Thus if you told him to buy a pair of socks he would immediately think of the word sockdolager and 10 to 1 when he arrived at the store the word would have turned into doxology, and he would come back with a hymn-book. So his system has its faults but Miggles swears by it and once in a while he evolves a triumph in his line

Last week his wife asked him to stop at Munnimaker's and buy a few things for her He immediately made a list so that he should not forget I was with him when he drew out this list at Munnimaker's

"Hello [illegible]" [illegible] "What's all this royal family about? I can't think whether it was books or kitchen utensils that Mrs Miggles asked me to get I'll [illegible]"

"What's on the list?" I asked

"Why I made it out in my system you know and I can't think of the key to it I've got to have a starter always It says King Henry V one Prince of Wales one Duke of York Queen Victoria and Marquis of Lorne too"

"Why it's historical works or photographs" said I but I was really quite in the dark

"No" said Miggles "Just help me to think I'm sure it wasn't books or pictures I think it was dry goods"

Quite accidentally I put him on the track If I hadn't in spite of his system he would have gone home without a blunder and as he is a commuter that would have been a little [illegible] him [illegible] said I unto myself

"Ha!" said Miggles, "thanks Cotton is king—old expression Cotton—King Henry V equals five yards of cotton"

"Good" said I "But what in thunder [illegible] Prince of Wales?"

"Prince—prince—prints one yard of prints" And Miggles laughed with joy

"There is more in that system than I thought" said I "But what can you make out of one Duke of York?"

"Duke—duke duke Duke—duchess Ha one yard duchess lace"

"You're a wonder" said I "But what can Queen Victoria and Marquis of Lorne too mean?"

"Like a [illegible]" answered "Two yards of Victoria—lawn! Hooray" —(Chas Battell Loomis, in The Smart Set

Bryant's Letters

In one of the Long Island ponds long known in family as "The mill pond" says Mrs Candace Wheeler in the July Atlantic grew a gigantic white water lily the peer of which I have never found elsewhere and which as far as I know grew in no other water spot on the island There are hundreds of north side ponds where lilies grow but they are of another kind unacknowledged kindred which these particular ones royally ignored The moderately sized flexible stemmed variety grows in still and shallow water nearly everywhere This one grew upon a stem the size of a woman's [illegible] and held its head as proudly as a queen The buds were from three to four inches in length and the flowers often eight inches across As the pond was the southern boundary of our homestead the long tangle of woods between was traversed as often as once a week in the lily season to bring home these wonders of blossoms and a shallow tub of them made a small lily pond on the north piazza of Nestledown In those days the Bryant homestead at Roslyn was the living habitation of the living poet and the drive across the island nearly from shore to shore was an ideal summer afternoon performance Always when the lilies blossomed we carried a basket of them to Mr Bryant knowing [illegible] man who had given pleasure to the world His love for flowers was a very lively sentiment and few things grew on Long Island of which he was not aware He inquired after these particular lilies like friends and his acquaintance with and recognition of them was a source of added appreciation To know that they commended themselves to one of the finer and higher intelligences of the world gave a crown to their beauty

The Fourth at Kadiak

In the Century for August John Burroughs [illegible] the experiences of the Harriman expedition in Alaska and Bering Sea in the spring and summer of 1899 He waxes enthusiastic over the village of Kadiak

The Fourth of July found us as it usually finds Americans wherever they are full of patriotism and Yankee wing with oratory and gunpowder hilarity Our huge graphophone played very well the part of a brass band Professor Brewer [illegible] upon the hurricane deck discharged admirably the duties of the orator of the day following the [illegible] Mr Keeler who shaded a little the picture the speaker had drawn by a stirring [illegible] followed by a boat race and general hilarity finished the programme

Kadiak I think won a place in the affections of us all there our spirits probably touched the highest point If we had other days that were epic these days were lyric To me they were certainly more exquisite and thrilling than any before or after I feel as if I wished to go back to Kadiak almost as if I could return there I live so secluded [illegible] mingling [illegible] the past [illegible] with the wild and the rugged Such emerald heights such flowery [illegible] the sea and such a vast green [illegible] stretching away to the west and to the north and to the south Now thinking of Kadiak the spell of the summer freshness and placidity is upon me still

Miss Cora Hastings is in Trouble in Arapahoe

Miss Cora Hastings whose speculations of various kinds with the proceeds of the sale and loan of mining stocks alleged to have belonged to others got her into trouble in the local courts about two weeks ago is now occupying a cell in the county jail of Arapahoe county.

She was acquitted here of the charge [illegible] and it was generally supposed that her troubles had ceased When she got to Denver a few days ago however she found that there too there were people who felt that they were compelled by force of circumstances to cause her some embarrassment, or at least to have her locked up

Miss Hastings attorney George Ashley, who came to Colorado from Cairo Ill, when Miss Hastings was in trouble here and who succeeded in unravelling the entanglement sufficiently to get her free is now in Denver but is not having as good success as he had here His maiden client was arrested at the Union depot in Denver on Wednesday evening and last evening was still a guest of Arapahoe county

The complaining witness in Denver is Mrs S L Brinley who was among the creditors to put in claims when Miss Hastings was under arrest here and who is well known in mining circles of the state having been actively engaged in the brokerage business herself for several years She charges Miss Hastings with having received from her 3,000 shares of mining stock and $135 in cash for which there has been no settlement Miss Hastings is said to admit that the transaction took place but to contend that she would make everything all right again if allowed a little time

She also claims that some of the mining stocks involved in her troubles were forcibly taken from her by a Colorado Springs attorney whose name she declines to divulge

Miss Hastings is said to have telegraphed her brothers in Illinois not to send her any more money for the settlement of her financial troubles as she intends to fight them out Her arrest was at the Union depot on Wednesday night as she was attempting to leave Denver on a Burlington train

The local police were notified of the arrest of Miss Hastings and were asked to give an opinion of her The response was that they did not believe her quite right in her mind

In an interview with a representative of the Gazette while she was in the El Paso county jail a couple of weeks ago Miss Hastings said that she did not need to stay there any longer than she wanted to that she was simply there for a little rest and could leave at any time

Electric Flashes Toyed With Wires and Roofs

At 6 o'clock last night there was an unusually close and troublesome storm in and about Colorado Springs There was some rain and there was some wind but the familiarity of the lightning flashes furnished more interest and drew more attention than all the rest of the elements put together

At 6 15 a bolt descended in the vicinity of Wahsatch avenue and Cucharras streets electric light converters were burned out in many houses in the neighborhood [illegible] in the house of Gordon Bish being of such extent that the fire department was called out Nothing was set afire however and no damage was suffered except by the electric light company

What was probably the same bolt of lightning cut the trolley wire on Huerfano street near Wahsatch and frightened an Elite laundry wagon horse so that he broke loose from the wagon and ran away

Another center of excitement was at the boarding house of Mrs A L Call at [illegible] North Cascade avenue Lightning struck the roof of the house tearing the shingles loose in four places Mrs Call who was in the house was stunned and was not brought out of the stupor for some time Several [illegible] of the house who in the flash time were more or less stunned

The shock from this flash of lightning was distinctly noticed at the Alta Vista hotel

So far as reported last night there was no serious damage in the city or vicinity as a result of the storm

Flambeau Club Out Regardless of Storm

The [illegible] joined the El Paso County Republican Flambeau club participated in another effective drill at Temple theater last night The membership rolls of the organization show an aggregate of 79 most of whom paid the $1 initiation fee and received engraved certificates of active membership at the business meeting before the drill was started

Under the instructions of experienced drill masters the boys are fast approaching a degree of efficiency in the regular army manual that will permit them to go before critical generals on dress parade and come out with high honors The exercise is entertaining instructive and amusing and the interest that is manifested is remarkable Not only are the boys anxious to make a good political showing but when the other cities begin to demand their attention, they intend making the best display of any organization in the state There is some talk of taking the boys to the inaugural at Washington but that is a matter to be considered when the campaign has ended

In any event the flambeau club is successful now The interest will be all the more intense when the uniforms and flambeaux arrive, which will be in a short time

E F Bats and F H Dunnington drilled separate squads last night in compliance with the wish of Captain Shapcott who could not be present He will return to the city however and take charge next Thursday night at the regular drill At that time line officers will be elected by the company members

Lacey Charged With Violating Sunday Law

James I Lacey proprietor of the Arcade saloon at Colorado City, was tried yesterday morning before Police Magistrate Cunningham on a charge of violating the city ordinances by selling liquor on Sunday He was found guilty and fined $300 and costs He immediately gave notice that he would appeal the case to the county court and an appeal bond was filed

This is only the second case of the kind which has come into police court since the Good Government administration was inaugurated last April but the marshal and police magistrate are determined to have all saloons kept closed on Sunday The marshal has made special efforts to enforce all ordinances without serious trouble but in two cases he has been obliged to test his authority

Several weeks ago Marshal Birdsall suspected that the proprietor of the Arcade saloon was not complying with the ordinance in regard to Sunday closing He could prove nothing however and he decided to wait a while This week he believed he had an excellent opportunity [illegible] he decided to do so

A man whose name has been withheld entered Mr Lacey's place last Sunday evening and stated that he wished to purchase a bottle of whiskey The bartender did not know him and he asked him a number of questions before selling him the liquor The man was requested to give his name and tell where he was employed The answers given proved satisfactory, and the whiskey was sold to him

The purchaser of the whiskey reported the matter to Marshal Birdsall on the following morning and a complaint was sworn out charging Mr Lacey with having violated the Sunday closing ordinance He was arrested Tuesday morning and ordered to appear in police court He appeared and pleaded not guilty to the charge and his hearing was set for yesterday morning

Mr Lacey offered no defense but as soon as he was fined took an appeal to the county court The man who purchased the whiskey was put on the witness stand and his testimony was all that was submitted during the trial Judge Cunningham found the defendant guilty and fined him $300 and costs

A Roll, a Bottle, Two Friends, an Experience

A weary looking old colored man who gave his name as John Ellison appeared at police headquarters early yesterday afternoon and reported that he had been robbed of $90 and a silver watch

He was intensely excited as a result of the affair which he related and Chief Henry spent several minutes finding out just what had happened to him His story of the robbery was very much intermingled with loud threats to kill the two men who had taken his valuables He was shabbily dressed and his inability to stand straight upon both feet was evidence enough to convince Chief Henry that he had been drinking

For several minutes the chief was not inclined to believe that the old man had been robbed but after putting him through a careful examination he concluded that the affair was worth investigating Ellison said that he had been working for two months on the second division of the new Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek road and that he had drawn his pay amounting to $98 on Wednesday evening He said he knew both men who committed the robbery and was able to give definite descriptions of both

According to the story related to Chief Henry the old colored man came down from the railroad camp Wednesday afternoon He went to Carlile Dittmer & Weltbrec's office near the Denver & Rio Grande depot and was given a check for $98 He cashed the check and put $90 of it in a pocket in his overalls and went his way He secured a room at a colored boarding house in the south part of the city and there he met the two colored men who afterwards robbed him They evidently learned that Ellison had money for they made special efforts to keep posted on his whereabouts He went to a restaurant yesterday morning and got his breakfast after which he returned to his boarding house The two men were there and they invited him to take a walk They secured a bottle of whisky and walked down to the Denver & Rio Grande coal chutes in the south part of the city

After arriving there they stretched themselves out upon the ground and proceeded to drink the contents of the bottle Ellison states that he suspected nothing and was careless about the amount which he drank After getting away with the whisky they all laid down to sleep When Ellison fell asleep his two companions who were not badly intoxicated proceeded to awaken and to relieve him of his money and watch

About 2 o'clock Ellison awoke from his slumbers He first missed his companions and becoming suspicious he began to search his pockets for watch and money He quickly realized the situation and started for police headquarters

Ellison is apparently a hard working man and states that he has a wife and two sons in Kansas who are dependent upon him for support He claims that he had not had a drink of whisky since he started to work on the grade and that when he drank the whisky yesterday it almost paralyzed him Chief Henry is making every effort to locate the supposed robbers

Will Let the People Ascend the Grade

The officials of the new railroad to Cripple Creek have decided not to attempt any chartered excursion business upon opening of their road but will give residents and tourists all an opportunity of visiting the mountains as far as the line runs in a few days when the new locomotives and passenger cars arrive The conveyance of material for the line beyond the first tunnel will occupy the tracks during certain periods of the day and the new equipment on hand before the line is completed will not have a capacity for an unlimited excursion trains such as a chartered one would doubtless be In view of these facts the company will run a limited excursion to the mountains every morning and every afternoon beginning a few days hence when the equipment arrives

McKinley and Roosevelt on a Big Banner

The handsomest political banner that was ever made in the state of Colorado is being painted for the El Paso County Republican club and will adorn Pike's Peak avenue or Tejon street or both within a few days

The banner is on heavy canvas and consists of portraits of the Republican nominees between which there is an imposing figure of Columbia The net on which the portraits are strung is to be 20x30 feet in size and the face of each of the candidates measures six and one half by nine feet

The painting is being done by Mr Frank C Morse who is quite well known here as an artist and engraver He has completed the portraits of McKinley and Roosevelt for one side of the banner and expects to have it done and ready to deliver to the committee by next Tuesday All who have seen the faces now done are greatly pleased with the workmanship

Mr Morse expects to paint political banners for many other cities in the state

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION AUGUST 10.

The Republicans of El Paso county will hold a convention on Aug 18 This and other important matters were disposed of by the committee meeting in headquarters yesterday afternoon

The resignation of F Barnett who will henceforth make his home in New York was received and accepted R L Chambers being chosen in his stead The chairman and secretary were instructed to formulate a call for a county convention on Aug 18 to select delegates to the state congressional senatorial and representative district conventions A committee of three was appointed to confer with a like committee from Teller county, with power to determine the time place and representation for holding the representative district convention

FIREWORKS AT THE CASINO TOMORROW

Mr C W Paradice of Denver makes the great exhibit of fireworks at Broadmoor casino Saturday night He is a manufacturer of fireworks in Denver, and has had a large experience The street car company will change its regular service to get cars enough to carry the crowd and expects to land at least a thousand people on Broadmoor hill The admission to the casino is 25 cents and the fireworks will be set off in a part of the grounds where it will be necessary to be inside the inclosure to see them The exhibit has cost about $500 and Mr Paradice promises that it will be a fine one He brings his own men and apparatus

REVIVAL CHOIR TO BE ORGANIZED TONIGHT

The Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city has been very fortunate in securing the assistance of Mr Oscar Seagel of Chattanooga Tenn to conduct the singing during the coming series of revival services

Mr Seagel is one of the best known gospel singers in the South where he is in great demand for revival meetings His solos are said to be equal to a sermon in their presentation of the gospel to a popular audience Mr Seagel will be at the church this evening to organize and drill a choir for the meetings

All who can assist in the singing whether members of the local church or not are invited and requested to be present on this evening

NEW RAILROAD NEWS.

Word received from Goldfield states that the city council at that place has refused to grant the franchise asked by the Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District railroad

The objection stated is that the proposed right of way takes away parts of lots in many instances and in some cases runs directly through houses The property owners and the city government contend that the company should buy the entire lots and not portions only

The railroad people are confident that they will be able to come to a satisfactory understanding with Goldfield.

DID THIS COW FAINT?

Near the intersection of two down town residence streets yesterday there was a remarkable exhibition of the agility of a woman as compared with the agility of a cow

No one was injured

An inoffensive cow was perambulating down the [illegible] in the middle of the road (she was a Populist cow) and there was a real woman walking down the sidewalk

All went well until the woman saw the cow Then she stopped suddenly

That is both did

Then she started to run

That is both did

The woman ran to the edge of the sidewalk and got behind a tree The cow forgot to run the other way so started in between the tree and the fence around a [illegible] The woman dodged back from behind the tree thinking that the cow was after her and the cow thinking that the woman was doing the chasing got behind the tree The result in about five seconds was that the woman was chasing the cow and the cow was chasing the woman around the tree Had she been singing anything it would have been that beautiful ballad "While She was Chasing Herself Round the Tree" But she was not singing for she was too badly scared

That is both were

Finally the woman with just enough energy left to perform the feat, made a twenty yard dash at the nearest possible gate and well inside the yard fainted

The cow seeing an avenue of escape from [illegible] death made a desperate dash down the street in the opposite direction at the fastest possible gait

The woman was resuscitated Since at last reports the cow was still running it is not known whether she also fainted

The Things You Eat

You're naturally particular about them All foods deteriorate with age so the store that sells and replaces its goods oftenest can serve you best—can give you fresher food which has lost none of its nutriment

That's an advantage the immense trade we've been building up for the past 20 years brings to our customers But that's only one of the advantages—this guarantee of freshness

You know about the advantage the bigger trade brings us in the matter of cost and so in the matter of the price you pay

The greater variety, reputable brands only, the lower prices and our long experience ought to be of some value when selecting groceries or meats You'll find they are too

FREE COINAGE CO. PROPERTIES

On Bull Hill Are Producing Heavily—Potvin and Vane Make a Large Shipment from Christmas—Other Shipments.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek Aug [illegible]—The properties of the Free Coinage Co on Bull hill are now producing heavily In fact they will compare with any other company on this particular hill From the [illegible] about 300 tons were marketed last month carrying an average of eight ounces to the ton The Mercer lease on the Wilson of the same company shipped [illegible] tons of 4½ ounce ore notwithstanding that during the greater part of the month work was confined to development

Potvin and Vane shipped from the main workings of the Christmas 650 tons of three ounce ore last night This is one of the best leases in that particular portion of the district

Messrs King and Whiting shipped 40 tons of four ounce ore yesterday from their lease on the Old Vaughn workings on the Hull City placer

The Osgood lease on the Victor marketed [illegible] carloads of low grade ore during the month of July all of which was shipped to the cyanide plant at Florence

Mr Alexander McClurg yesterday resigned from the management of the Gold Dollar property on Beacon hill and Mr H F Allen has been appointed temporarily to take charge of the property It is said that Mr McClurg was not given permission by the directors to do the work he desired on this property Gold Dollar ground is valuable territory but it will require the expenditure of not a little sum of money to make anything like a great mine out of the property

It is rumored around town tonight that a very important surface find has been made by some lessees on the Beacon claim on Beacon hill owned by the Prince Albert company Details as to the value and extent of the ore are not obtainable

Work was resumed yesterday on the Blue Bird property with a small force of men It is the intention of the management to sink the shaft an additional [illegible]00 feet

A carload of $40 screenings is ready for shipment from the Smith lease on the Trachyte Development work is in progress and the lessees are confident of soon finding a better grade of ore

When winter comes the vital forces of nature are low, and the tree stands like a solitary monument to the dead summer In the winter of life active men experience a similar lowering of vitality In some the effect is [illegible] They loose their grip on life They seem like monuments of a buried past At this crisis there is need of a medicine which will nourish and build up the body and increase its vital power Such a medicine is Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery It enriches the blood, purifies it carries off the clogging waste of the system increases the nutrition of the body and produces a sound, healthy condition with abundant vital power and physical energy

David Duggins Esq, of Jones Ohio Co Ky writes "When I began taking Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I had nervous or general debility of three years duration I took three bottles of the Discovery During the time I was taking it my sleep became more refreshing and I gained fifteen pounds weight and [illegible] strength [illegible] It has been six months since I took the medicine and I still have reasonable health I am willing to have you publish this and also my former letter if you wish to and if it proves to be of benefit to any afflicted person I will feel well repaid"

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant in Golden Medical Discovery," neither opium or other narcotic drugs

The dealer who offers a substitute for the Discovery" is seeking to profit himself not to help you Insist on having Golden Medical Discovery"

Dr Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to cover cost of mailing only Send 21 one-cent stamps for edition in paper cover or 31 stamps for cloth binding Address Dr R V. Pierce, Buffalo, N Y.

TO BE RESUMED

Suspended Work on Steelsmith Lease on Findley to be Taken Up, as June-July's Pay Roll Will be Settled by Lessees.

On July 15th the Steelsmith lease on the Findley property shut down This suspension of work was caused by the fact that Lessee Steelsmith refused to settle the pay roll of the month before and according to the stringency of the customs in the Cripple Creek district all work was suspended until the arrears are adjusted This is the famous Steelsmith lease which received its name more from the man than from any celebrated feature relative to the lease itself Steelsmith is a well known plunger and when he takes a property to lease he sticks to it with grit and perseverance The officers of the Findley company offer no explanation as to why the pay roll was not settled further than the lessee is known to have remarkably strong backing The latest development is that Steelsmith will arrive in the Springs tonight fully prepared as the manager of the mine announces to pay his affairs so that work can be [illegible] The lease embraces the center of the claim the northern part being [illegible] and the southern portion in litigation The Steelsmith shaft [illegible] 100 foot level extensive drifting has been done along the vein which is a continuation of the rich Hull City placer vein This vein was followed by [illegible] three feet of Findley ground and although there have been some shipments made off the Findley property there has not been nearly the richness and size on this ground as on the Hull City territory The vein is of average size and was struck on the first level The ore from this vein is of a very low grade and it is the intention of Steelsmith as soon as he can resume work to continue the shaft to a greater depth and to stope up on the vein from a cross cut In this way it is hoped that better values will be carried with depth The last shipment from this lease is a still recent occurrence as it was sent out early in July The lessees will not ship at all for at least 20 days and all their energy will be directed toward sinking the shaft for a suitable level from which to cross cut It is very satisfactory to the officers of the company to have this difficulty bridged over and it is expected that Steelsmith will hand over the necessary funds to the mine manager at once The lessees [illegible] not having adjusted the pay roll.

OUTPUT TO BE INCREASED

Fanny Rawlings August Production Will Be in Excess of Last Month's Output.

It is reported that affairs on the Fanny Rawlings have never been more encouraging than now either as to ore [illegible] development [illegible] The management promises that the August [illegible] the [illegible] production as the laborious underground improvements which retarded the hoisting during the past few months are now completed and that hereafter all efforts will be directed toward shipping ore This is hoisting of pay rock [illegible] third and fourth levels [illegible] from [illegible] veins A new drift will be run from a lower level than any of these and when one of the pay veins is intersected there will be a fine stoping area to work on The fact that Fanny Rawlings is being industriously worked is proved by the pay roll which amounted to $3400 for the last month and the same number of men will be employed this month unless the shifts are increased The ore which these veins carry is a compound of a number of metals The ore runs about $[illegible] in gold about $30 in silver with a large percentage of copper and iron The character is strictly sulphide The deepest workings are [illegible] feet in the ground and a great deal of work such as cross cuts and drifts have been run

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

It is reported on good authority that Mr James F Burns president of the Portland Gold Mining company has offered to advance $[illegible] to support a lawsuit against the promoters of the Independence Wilson Creek companies to annul the deal Mr Burns is out of town and this report is not confirmed by him but the impression that this is true is very general as Mr Burns seems in sympathy with the minority holders in both companies

MOLLIE DWYRE AND IONE JACK'S DEVELOPMENTS

A fully equipped [illegible] hoist will soon be installed on the Mollie Dwyre and will materially help in sinking the shaft to a point where the Pointer vein can be cut At present the shaft is only [illegible] feet in the ground In the near vicinity of Mollie Dwyre lessees on the Ione Jack have opened up a vein in a drift from the 100 foot level which is believed to be similar in character to the productive Pointer vein

GOLD COIN'S PRODUCTION 112 TONS DAILY

The average output for the Gold Coin mine for the month of July is [illegible] lower than usual This is due to the [illegible] surface developments which have been under way for the past eight months and [illegible] monthly production however is as great [illegible] a total average of a little over [illegible] With the big shaft house with its latest improvements is in working [illegible] is nothing like that of the Portland

THREE CAR LOADS FROM JENNIE SAMPLE

The [illegible] carloads of ore are already [illegible] shipping from the Jennie Sample [illegible] of the Gould company The ore will [illegible] high grade as [illegible] from the [illegible] level of the claim

THE NEW HAVEN SHIPMENT A FIASCO

The shipment [illegible] sent out by Lessee Whi[illegible] on the New Haven property proved very disappointing [illegible] The lessee [illegible] one of the most experienced [illegible] the shipment [illegible] shaft [illegible] which is being sunk is rapidly [illegible] 100 feet deep and will be continued 200 feet [illegible] from Larkin and S[illegible] the first [illegible] of the claim

ROANOKE ON MINERAL SHOWING UP WELL

The Roanoke [illegible] Cripple Creek [illegible] The Roanoke [illegible] a promise [illegible] The Roanoke [illegible] which was sunk from a drift run from the first level The operators on the property are now sinking to 200 feet when a drift will be run to cut the vein and thus mine the [illegible] the Hermosa company

NO NEW STRIKE ON HULL CITY

The report that the M[illegible] Werthing leasing company has struck it on their lease on the Hull City placer has been denied by all parties [illegible] The principal drifting on this lease is being done from the [illegible] foot level and although the vein is being followed up [illegible] along [illegible] assays of any ore [illegible] W[illegible] Werthing of this city is operating the lease

TEN DAYS TO SETTLE OLD INDEPENDENCE

Ten days will be required between the time that Independence T and M [illegible] close and the day when the [illegible] and the new stock will be issued Certificates of stock in the Independence Consolidated will be sent out through the Independence T and M [illegible] and likewise Wilson Creek stockholders will receive their new shares through the Wilson Creek office It is noteworthy that the old certificates of both companies will neither be cancelled nor surrendered

CLYDE STRIKES NARROW SEAM OF HIGH GRADE

[illegible] a drift from the [illegible] foot level in the Clyde mine The vein is only about five inches wide and returns five ounces to the ton The seam will [illegible] and as soon as the shaft is [illegible] watered a drift and stope from this level will be run to cut the vein again

MILTON INDEPENDENCE SUIT TRANSFERRED

In the case of George Milton vs Stratton's Independence an application has been made to the district court of Teller county by which this suit was filed to transfer the case to the federal court

NEW EQUIPMENTS FOR EL PASO GOLD KING

On Aug 10 the El Paso Gold King will be shut down in order to install an entirely new plant of machinery which is demanded by the improved condition of the mine The plant decided upon will be a counterpart of the one which has recently been installed on the Strong mine

WM. P. BONBRIGHT'S MARKET LETTER

Messrs W P Bonbright & Co speak as follows of present conditions of the mining stock market

Contracts are about to be let for a mill which the Portland company is to build on the land recently purchased at Colorado City The mill will have an initial capacity of 20[illegible] tons daily but it is planned that this can be readily doubled The cost will be $[illegible] The multiplication of reduction plants at Colorado City is a direct result of the [illegible] construction of which is being [illegible] with all speed and [illegible] is practically assured [illegible] the use of the [illegible]

All the machinery [illegible] the new surface plant of the Gold Coin are now on the ground and will be completed and in running order in November next It will be the equal of any mining plant in the state and will cost nearly $300 000 In spite of the disadvantages under which the management is laboring at present a daily production of about 100 tons is being maintained It is stated that at the 800 foot level the ore shoot has been proven for a distance of [illegible]00 feet and found even stronger and richer than in some of the upper levels

Good reports continue to be received from Acacia In the Wickloff lease [illegible] four to five feet in width of ore running $1[illegible]

The strike in the Unexpected of the [illegible] consolidated company continues to hold promise of permanence The vein which is of great width yields good values from wall to wall and it is reported that assays recently taken across the breast averaged $144

The report growing out of the continued strength of Elkton of a contemplated increase in the dividend rate has been officially denied The mine is producing handsomely the net earnings for the month of June being $67 000 and a vast amount of development work is in progress but while the prospects are very bright the management considers inadvisable any increase of the dividend rate for some time to [illegible]

This week's market has been with [illegible] the opening days one of surprises excitement and sensations [illegible] a prominent part and owing to the favorable conclusion of [illegible] reorganization plans the stock was in demand selling (today) as high as [illegible] The new management will have much more confidence reposed in it than the old and it would seem now that the company should enter a prosperous era The sensational features of the week were confined to Independence T & M and Wilson Creek It was rumored yesterday that either a [illegible] or a consolidation had been [illegible] by the contending companies in which event it was generally believed the combined stock would be worth $1.00 per share The report [illegible] is the case the most reasonable and [illegible] be an almost endless and expensive litigation On the strength of the probable amicable settlement Independence climbed rapidly from 4[illegible] to 55 while Wilson Creek in sympathetic action rose from [illegible] to 32c This happened yesterday Today quite the reverse occurred and from yesterday's close both stocks tumbled about 15 cents This peculiar and sudden slump is explained by many theories There are those who maintain the consolidation scheme has fallen through while others say manipulation caused the decline and that the bear movement was for the purpose of inside purchasing There are other stories varied and qualified The true status cannot possibly be learned and [illegible] all privileged to guess Outside of the foregoing there were no special features A steady market has characterized the week

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs Aug [illegible] 1900—[illegible]ant trading and firm prices were the conditions of today's market The call was very uninteresting and there seemed to be little feeling one way or the other Prices probably remained so secure owing to the weak effort made to buy the greater number of stocks The majority of the investing public seem to be awaiting definite issu[illegible] then [illegible] [illegible]tial advance or decline The twin sensation Independence and Wilson Creek was not traded in at all though there is much current gossip regarding the stand which a number of the leading brokers are taking. Elkton continued firm and scored another sharp advance The [illegible] consolidation sold up to $1 6[illegible] It is the general opinion among brokers that this stock will be at still higher figures in the near future The condition of the mine is excellent and this is probably the best reason for the gradual advance of the stock

The day's transactions amounted to 4[illegible] 3[illegible] shares representing in cash $83 3[illegible]

HOT SPRINGS IS AFTER FARMERS' CONGRESS

The Business Men's league of Hot Springs, Ark., has written the Colorado Springs chamber of commerce asking any consistent aid that can be offered in securing the next annual meeting of the Farmers' congress for that place. Everything is in readiness for the big meeting that opens in this city three weeks hence. The southern states are appointing delegates, and the total number of visitors will doubtless be above 2,500.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

The district court took an indefinite recess yesterday after disposing of a few matters of minor importance.

The suit of W. L. Cook against the Franklin Gold Mining company in the county court yesterday was dismissed by stipulation, Mr. Cook to pay costs and receive 13,000 shares of stock in the Franklin company.

The case of Patterson vs. Dashwood was dismissed from county court yesterday, the ruling being that the court had no jurisdiction. The case, involving a writ of forcible detainer, has been tried six times.

IN JUSTICE COURTS

In Justice Ruby's court yesterday a money demand suit, entitled Brown vs. Williams, was filed. The plaintiff asks judgment for $40. The case was set for Aug. 11, at 9 o'clock a. m.

The case of Crowell and Lombard vs. Schiele was continued until Aug. 2, at 9 o'clock a. m.

In the case of Giles vs. Sommers, the court rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $50 and costs of the suit.

The case of the People vs. John Lovell, who is charged with horse stealing, was continued until Aug. 6, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The case of Hollenbeck vs. Swink was continued until August 13 at 9 o'clock a. m.

A money demand suit entitled the May Clothing company vs. Laura Hollenbeck was filed. The plaintiff company asks judgment for [illegible]. The case was set for August 13 at 9 o'clock.

A transcript in a case entitled J. H. [illegible] and the trial was set for August 3 at 9 o'clock a. m.

H. S. Radcliff brought suit against Peter Erickson for $20. The case was set for August 7 at 9 o'clock.

A money demand suit was brought by Isaac May and Albert May against J. K. Bruner. The plaintiffs ask judgment for $24.61 which they claim is due them for a bill of goods purchased by the defendant. The case was set for August 8.

B. F. White brought suit against W. H. Rogers for $95.40. The case was set for August 7 at 9 o'clock a. m.

In Justice Wing's court yesterday the case of Manewal vs. Shemwell was transferred to Justice Faulkner at Colorado City on a change of venue.

THE ART OF TALKING WELL.

Things to Say and Things to Leave Unsaid in General Conversation.

It is better to be frankly dull than pedantic.

One must guard one's self from the temptation of "talking shop" and of riding one's "hobby."

Whatever sets one apart as a capital "I" should be avoided.

A joke or humorous story is dependent upon its freshness for appreciation. Some emotions will not bear "warming over."

It is no longer considered good form to say a word against any one. An ill-natured criticism is a social blunder. Gossip, too, is really going out of fashion.

True wit is a gift, not an attainment. Those who use it aright never yield to the temptation of saying anything that can wound another in order to exhibit their own cleverness. It is natural and spontaneous. "He who runs after wit is apt to catch nonsense."

Talk that has heartiness in it and the liveliness and sparkle that come of lightheartedness and innocent gayety, is a fairly good substitute for wit.

Offer to each one who speaks the homage of your undivided attention. Look people in the face when you talk to them.

Talk of things, not persons. The best substitute for wisdom is silence.

It is a provincialism to say "yes, sir," "no, ma'am" to one's equal.

Have convictions of your own. Be yourself and not a mere echo.

Never ask leading questions. We should show curiosity about the concerns of others only so far as it may gratify them to tell us.

Draw out your neighbor without catechizing him. Correct him, if necessary, without contradicting him. Avoid mannerisms.

Strive to be natural and at ease. The nervousness that conceals itself under affected vivacity should be controlled, as should the loud laugh.—Mrs. Burton Kingsland, in the August Ladies' Home Journal.

DITCHED THE BISHOP.

The Driver Was Fascinated by the Prelate's Talk on Immortality.

"I remember once driving across the country with Bishop ——," writes Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, of "A Missionary in the Great West," in the August Ladies' Home Journal, "while discussing the nature of the soul. That is, the bishop was discussing; I was only prompting by a question now and then. We were on the rear seat of a wagon, with the driver on the front seat. It was a very dark night. In the middle of the bishop's exposition the wagon took a wild plunge, there was a crash, and over we went into the muddy ditch. 'I beg your pardon, gents,' said the driver, who had restored us to our feet, 'I was so interested in hearin' the little man discussin' my immortal soul, which I hardly ever knowed that I had one before, that I clean forgot where we was, and drove you plump into the ditch.'"

WHAT TO TALK ABOUT.

To Be a Good Talker One Must Keep Informed on the Topics of the Day.

"The subjects of entertaining conversation are, of course, multiplied by increased knowledge of books, of the world of men and women, music, art and travel," writes Mrs. Burton Kingsland, in the August Ladies' Home Journal. "One should be familiar with the current news of the day and the topics occupying public attention, with the names and authors of the new books, and be able to say something worth hearing about what one has read and heard. Many get no farther in speaking of a book than that it is dull or interesting. Others give in few words what seems to be its central idea, its characteristics, the time and scene of its action, quoting, perhaps, some sentiment that has impressed or witticism that has pleased. True culture carries with it an atmosphere of breadth—the world and not the village. A woman lacking it was said to betray by her conversation a mind of narrow compass, bounded on the north by her servants, on the east by her children, on the south by her ail[illegible]. The mind grows shallow which is occupied perpetually with trivialities. A course of solid reading is a good tonic. When ignorant of our ignorance we do not know when we betray ourselves."

A picnic party consisting of about 75 persons from Glen Park passed through our town on Wednesday en route for the Black Forest, which is located on the Doldrick ranch, and is so named from its close resemblance to the Black Forest in Germany. It takes its name from the kind of pine tree (the black jack pine), and not from the density and darkness of the forest. Wonderful to relate the party were able to find "ice" and "music" in this vicinity, two unmistakable evidences of civilization. A sister of J. Geiger is visiting him. He had not seen her for 30 years.

The Sabbath school at Monument held its usual picnic at the Black Forest on Tuesday, July 31.

RALEIGH'S GALLANT CAPTAIN ON SPAIN'S FALL IN THE EAST.

(From the Manitou Journal)

CAPTAIN J B COGHLAN U S N who achieved distinction and fame at the battle of Manila while in command of the United States cruiser Raleigh is among the visitors now resident in Manitou Captain Coghlan is just recovering from a severe illness and has taken a suite of rooms at the Castle the beautiful home near the Montcalm Sanitarium on Ruxton avenue where he is rapidly regaining his health There the Journal man found him Monday morning taking a sun bath in an easy chair with a book in his hands and a Filipino straw hat on his head The [illegible] requested the captain to give him the story of the battle of Manila and the incidents connected therewith before and since the battle The captain at first declined but after considerable persistence upon the part of the reporter he consented and the following is the correct story of what transpired upon that memorable occasion

The squadron began Captain Coghlan rendezvoused at Hong Kong between the last of February and the 23d of April, 1898 and during that critical period Admiral Dewey was kept posted as to current events at home and notified what was expected of him in case of war In conformity with these instructions we made necessary preparations for probable contingencies, such as the purchase of supply steamers extra coal and additional provisions In other words we purchased enough supplies to last us for four or five months You see at that time we had no base of operations We were out adrift and had to carry our base with us During our stay at Hong Kong our consul at Manila Mr Oscar F Williams was simply indefatigable in keeping the admiral well informed of the plans of the Spaniards at Manila and their preparations for defense For this purpose he employed Filipino spies and a very sharp American detective and the result he dispatched to us by every steamer that left Manila for Hongkong These dispatches of Williams contained accurate descriptions of the defenses that were being strengthened new batteries that were being put up mine fields that were being put in and everything of that kind as near as he could ascertain In this way we learned that there were to be five or six batteries established at the mouth of Manila bay and that large numbers of mines and torpedoes [illegible] planted in each of the channels by which vessels entered the bay A channel which carried the vessels close to the shore batteries which had been established as [illegible] Therefore when Admiral Dewey left China to go to Manila [illegible] with the knowledge as [illegible] as could be obtained that he had to enter a harbor well defended [illegible] by a fleet of Spanish vessels almost equal in force to his own Also that if he passed the mouth of the bay successfully there would be the city of Manila—which had been strongly fortified with at least four new 9½ inch Krupp guns and a fact we did not know at that time some 50 other high-power modern guns—to reckon with He was also informed that in the vicinity of Manila proper the Spaniards had placed a great many mines for the purpose of defense All this was known to the admiral before we left Hong Kong We sailed from Mirs bay which is close to Hong Kong on April 27 at about 2 o clock We had been detained up to 12 o clock waiting the arrival of Consul Williams who had come over from Manila and was coming out for consultation with the admiral

He brought with him a most important collection of maps and charts of the country contiguous to Manila itself together with descriptions of all the fortifications and defenses [illegible] that we never could force our way into Manila bay at all in the face of the preparations which had been made by the Spanish forces When the consul came out to the fleet in Mirs bay he brought with him about a dozen Filipinos who begged the admiral to allow them to go to Manila [illegible] statements they made was one to the effect that they had some 6 000 to 10 000 men with arms waiting to pounce on Manila when we should enter the bay In other words they attempted to make a bargain with the admiral to carry them over He seemed perfectly willing to let them go on the supply steamers merely as passengers and men who had been driven out of their country He therefore told them that the ships were ready to sail at once and they immediately commenced to beg him to stay for two or three days longer in order that they could go ashore and get some shirts laundered and buy some new clothes Together with other commanders I was present on board the flagship in consultation at this time and therefore know whereof I speak The admiral became tired of their importunities and said This is all nonsense I bind myself to nothing This talk is finished We go at 2 o clock and that ends it And no Filipino or any other person in the world outside of Consul Williams and a few newspaper men accompanied the vessels to Manila

We reached Manila bay without any incident worthy of note on Saturday evening about 11 o clock at night We had stopped about 6 o clock off Subig bay about 30 miles from Manila bay for the purpose of holding a last consultation with the admiral and receiving our instructions Two of our vessels had already been sent earlier in the day to reconnoiter We steamed slowly to the southward past the [illegible] had been sighted by the Spaniards was soon evidenced by the fact that signal lights were flashing from the north side as we passed down to the southern side Without hesitation we steered into the mouth of the bay proper passing close to El Fraile rock upon which a battery had been planted but of which fact we then had no knowledge until at 12 13 a m a shot was fired The shell passed over the fleet and was followed by a second and then a third When the third was fired I gave orders to fire one of our guns at this battery and in that way the Raleigh had the honor of firing the first shot in the Manila campaign This shot was followed by one or two from the Concord two or three from the Boston and several from the small guns of the revenue steamer McCulloch As soon as all the fleet had passed that battery and the signals had been made that all was well the admiral shaped his course up the bay and signalled for a four knot speed We kept up this speed all night long the crews being at the guns and everything cleared for action for not finding any torpedo boats and meeting with no resistance to speak of at the [illegible] We concluded that the Spanish fleet was in some advantageous position with their torpedo boats ready to attack us and therefore we prepared for anything We could see their signal lights following us up the shore just as if we were in plain sight It was a moonlight night with hazy slow-moving clouds and probably they could see us though we had no lights However that may be at 5 o clock in the morning we found ourselves close under the walls of Manila where we had been led to expect we would find the Spanish fleet but at daybreak no sign of it was to be seen off Manila While searching with our glasses to find some evidences of the Spanish vessels a gun was fired off to our right four or five miles away and we discovered the enemy under the arsenal at Cavite The admiral immediately made the signal Prepare to engage the enemy, and just as day was breaking all hands were at their stations the battle flags were broken out and the Olympia headed straight for the Spanish fleet The rest of the squadron followed [illegible] except the store ships which had been ordered to remain outside We were then about six miles from the enemy and our speed was about eight knots an hour so that it took us some time to bring our guns to bear notwithstanding the fact that the enemy s fleet was firing at us all the time as well as the shore batteries I should say that on an average our ships were under the fire of the Spaniards for about 30 minutes before we could return it We steered so as to turn and pass in a line parallel to the Spanish fleet, heading west Owing to our want of knowledge and lack of good charts the admiral was unable [illegible] as far as he desired because we had to feel our way through shoal water The first time we passed we were firing at about a distance of 3[illegible]00 yards In this way we hedged in toward the enemy passing them three times going to the westward and twice to the eastward which was simply splendid shooting distance Of course our vessels were firing as fast as they could whenever the smoke from their own guns did not obscure their sight We could see that the Spaniards were being pretty badly punished and they soon got under way in an attempt to move around so as to avoid being hit so often In fact the flagship of [illegible] made a move as if she [illegible] out but she was met with such a terrific fire that it fairly stopped her in her place She was so badly handled that some of the other vessels had to steam up and shove her around so that she could steam under the arsenal She ran on a shoal and eventually burned up and sank The small vessels began seeking shelter behind the arsenal The Castilla, one of the larger vessels had all her moorings except one cut away which left her swinging around a helpless target At 7 35 the admiral signalled to withdraw from action We went out into the middle of the bay the shore batteries firing at us from Cavite and Manila the while and the admiral signalled Let the men have breakfast The commanding officers of the respective ships met afterward on the flagship to make their report of what had occurred and much to our surprise and gratification we found that not a vessel in the fleet had been injured and not a man seriously hurt

After resting for a time and seeing the Spanish ships burning and going to pieces inside the admiral concluded that we would again go into Cavite and destroy the shore batteries with the intention of taking possession of the navy yard there in case we needed it Accordingly we went in again at 11 20 and after firing a few shots at the batteries [illegible] silenced and drove the people out of them During the engagement the Petrel got well inside in shallow water and fired into the arsenal almost from the shore and the Raleigh and the Boston fired from the sea side In a short time they hauled down the Spanish flag and surrendered the point As soon as this was accomplished the admiral started off alone with the Olympia for Manila Of course we all followed as soon as we could but he went over and anchored under the walls of Manila and notified the Spanish governor general that if a single shot was fired at the fleet he would lay the city in ruins That ended the fight The Spanish acknowledged in their report that they lost 381 men killed and wounded but so far as we could learn from the officers and men of the fleet [illegible] in excess of that In fact I don t believe they were ever able to tell how many men they did lose

The next day the admiral gave me the Baltimore to help and instructed me to go to the mouth of the bay drive out the enemy and take possession of all the batteries there When we arrived they surrendered everything but it being late in the afternoon and my orders being to return to the fleet that night, I was unable to absolutely destroy the guns and so returned the next day They delivered up to us all the breach blocks of all the [illegible] surrendered us [illegible] less all the muzzle loading guns and the ammunition Of the latter we sank in deep water nearly five tons In short we rendered the batteries absolutely useless

I want to say here that I am very sorry to hear—whether it is entirely true or not—that Mr Charles A Towne has been attempting to belittle the work of Admiral Dewey by the statement that there were no torpedoes in Manila bay and its channels and that the admiral knew this before he sailed I have already stated that from all knowledge obtainable through our consul at Manila and other agencies the admiral had every reason to believe before he left China that the waters around Manila were lined with torpedoes The day after the fight when I was sent down to the mouth of the bay our ships were drifting up and down those channels and the Spanish officers who were treating for the surrender begged me not to allow other ships to go toward a certain location which they insisted was filled with torpedoes and I am confident that this was not a ruse on their part [illegible] the position they wished us to keep gave us entire command of their fortifications and completely [illegible] their batteries And the next day May 3 when we were down there to complete the destruction of the batteries and I notified them that I was going over to the battery on Calallo island and to the one on El Fraile rock [illegible] Spanish officer insisted upon sending two of his officers with me to pilot us off the mine field One was an artillery officer and the other belonged to the marine infantry They went with us and were exceedingly anxious that we should keep a certain position off of what they claimed to be the mine field One of them Colonel Del Rio and the naval officer who was acting as civil chief of the district said that torpedoes had been planted in these channels but that they had [illegible] torpedo corps of Manila and while they had not been informed as to their exact location [illegible] as to the boundaries where they were not placed so that they could move around safely with their boats We afterwards found many unfinished torpedoes in the Cavite arsenal and were told by the people there that they had finished a number of them which had been sent down the bay Again when I went to Subig bay in July to capture Isla Grande I saw a number of these torpedoes on the shore They had evidently been planted in Subig bay channels and had gone adrift I also found in the arsenal at Subig bay some eleven electrical torpedoes that had not been planted but was informed that there were 30 of them originally and that the other 19 had been loaded and planted in Subig bay channel and connected electrically with the island The admiral s reasoning with the proposition of avoiding the mine fields going into Manila bay was so good and his choice of the channel for getting in [illegible] that we had a traitor on board who piloted us in so as to avoid the mine fields

There was also some talk about our having employed English gunners to serve on board That is absurd We employed no one and had no special men of any kind on board only our own American seamen and officers for we American naval officers believe that our men can shoot better than any other men in the world

Of course much has been said of Aguinaldo As far as I could personally learn Aguinaldo was in Singapore when the battle of Manila was fought He then went back to Hong Kong and sent word to Admiral Dewey requesting to be allowed to come to Manila on one of our vessels none other being allowed to run at that time The admiral consented and he and twelve others came over They were also allowed to land at Cavite and Aguinaldo immediately commenced to gather forces around him He soon [illegible] Roque and down the peninsula with which he had nothing whatever to do He had several engagements with the Spaniards and always seemed to get the advantage Aguinaldo and others frequently came over to see the admiral but they were always received as other men who behaved themselves but at no time were they received with military honors or recognized or used in any way as our allies It is my opinion that they never thought of independence or anything of the kind when they first arrived at Manila they came more for the purpose of getting revenge on the Spaniards Aguinaldo as far as we could learn was a half breed or mixed breed and had more of the Chinese in his appearance than anything else although he dressed as a Spaniard He was a sharp shrewd fellow and a thorough going traitor to his country He had sold them out once before and was shrewd enough to have the money deposited in his name in Hong Kong and I have yet to hear of anyone getting any of it for the good of the cause The high toned principle upon which he went to war with the Spanish forces the second time was because he had not been paid but half the sum promised for his first treachery His so called government was as despotic as it could possibly be They collected taxes whenever they felt inclined to and the fact that a man had paid the tax one month was no excuse why he should not pay it the next month provided he had the money They would even send their soldiers out on the water to collect a tax from the small traders who did business alongside the ships I was told and I believe it to be a fact that Aguinaldo s proclamations were written by a Mr Bray an English barrister from Singapore He was a very bright man and was regularly employed by Aguinaldo and his people for that purpose As far as I could see the Filipino people as a whole were very friendly to the Americans and they had every reason to be for it was the first time in their history that they had been treated with any degree of justice or received proper compensation for their products There were those in Manila however who while negotiations were pending between the United States and Spain for the possession of the islands circulated for their own personal ends the story that the inhabitants were to be purchased along with the islands and would be sold as slaves to work on the plantations [illegible] incident which could be given but this will suffice for a general statement of this subject and the questions that have arisen

NATIONAL POLITICS

Discussion of the Issues Before the People of the Country.

(Special Correspondence)

Washington July 30 A combination of declarations of the Kansas City platform and the personal statements of Mr Bryan concerning questions of national importance produces a horoscope for the country that its voters will be slow to indorse at the polls in November

Puerto Rico would either be erected into a territory or turned adrift to shift for itself, with a pronounced leaning toward the policy of abandonment The Republicans are charged with enslaving and impoverishing the island notwithstanding the fact that this year s volume of business there both in imports and exports is about 100 per cent larger than it was last year

Cuba would be abandoned at once All officials both civil and military would be withdrawn and the Cubans would be told to work out their own future Furthermore, this country would have to trust to the honor and ability of a government not yet created for repayment of the money loaned and spent for the benefit of that island

The mutually jealous tribes of the Philippine archipelago would be given a stable native government without the employment of force How this is to be done is a detail too simple to be explained The foreign population would look to the Filipinos for protection The United States without any rights on land would use the navy to protect the natives from European aggression and would take their part in European quarrels It is worth while to notice also that when the Democracy is talking about the Filipinos it insists that they should be treated as the Cubans are and when speaking of Cuba it arraigns the [illegible] administration in Cuba as being burdensome wrong and imperialistic

It is demanded that the United States take some formal action toward stopping the war in South Africa How this is to be done is another unimportant detail which the country is asked [illegible] man whom Mr Bryan may select for secretary of state

An army of 65 000 or 70 000 men we [illegible] nation of 70 000 000 Less than one soldier for every 1 000 of inhabitants is a threat [illegible] of free institutions and we are told that an era of militarism is threatened The Democratic candidate would protect the country from internal disorder and external aggression with Bryan Soldiers clubs

The country is told with words of prophetic solemnity that unless Bryan is elected in November there will be no more Fourths of July so it can be seen that the matter is getting serious

Then there is to be a good deal of wiping out all along the line Trusts and business combinations are to be wiped out the Dingley tariff is to be wiped out the gold standard is to be [illegible] national banks are to be [illegible] of Lincoln is to be wiped out

No encouragement is to be given to foreign trade But the [illegible] of Europe and Asia made by cheap labor are to come into our markets under a tariff for revenue only not protection and [illegible] destroy our home industries and make American labor as idle as it was under the Democratic administration of President Cleveland

These are some of the serious changes promised by the Tri-partite candidate for the presidency

The Republican party is the party of Lincoln and Grant whose work in their respective spheres saved republicanism not alone in America but for all the world The rebellion was the crucial test of the ability of a self governing nation to stand the strain of internecine strife The cost of saving the Union was fearful The land was hillocked with graves the blood of heroes fattened hundreds of battlefields the nation was exhausted but the flag was not furled and not a single star was lost from its azure field The result however was worth all it cost

It was a struggle for integrity of empire and yet it was a struggle against imperialism The triumph of the [illegible] made thrones [illegible] on their old foundations and some indeed have fallen while those which still remain have only been able to endure by granting a larger measure of self government to their subjects Manhood has become a royal thing—due to the efforts of the Republican party to dignify and verify the sovereignty of manhood Power has drifted down to the masses who became conscious of their power through the work of such men as Lincoln Grant Garfield Harrison and McKinley who in camp in battle and [illegible] made our country the envy of the world The policy of the Republican party has gone on in advance of the flag carrying some of the blessings of liberty to peoples and countries who have never seen the banner of glory and freedom To charge imperialism to the party which was conceived by freemen was rocked by liberty and grew to vigorous manhood on the strong meat of [illegible] is to distort history deny the truth and betray the fact that the opponents of the party think a falsehood is better than the truth for campaign purposes

Exports of domestic products have been as follows

Fiscal Year—	Amount
1890	$626 430 2[illegible]
1891	642,311 [illegible]13
1[illegible]	[illegible]
1893	59[illegible] 164 [illegible]
1894	619 213 849
1895	[illegible]
1896	[illegible]
189[illegible]	649 4[illegible]1 292
1898	804 818 [illegible]81
1[illegible]	[illegible] 503 [illegible]
1900	765 3[illegible]1 [illegible]98

The articles whose values are included in the above table are cattle hogs provisions breadstuffs cotton and mineral oils Nearly all are farm products and farmers will notice that the exports were less during the last Democratic administration than during the preceding and following Republican administrations Why go back to Democracy?

The only interests that will be benefited if the American shipping bill is passed next winter will be American—American labor in the mines factories [illegible] and the ships The Republicans naturally desire to pass the bill The Democrats just as naturally [illegible] and suggest no other remedy than the importation of foreign-built ships that will benefit American labor not one particle

Bryan invites the support of the traveling men of the country on a platform which promises [illegible] to trusts and inaugurate another era of free trade This would result in the traveling men of England France and Germany selling foreign goods to the merchants who now purchase home made articles

AMERICA PRE-EMINENT

Industrial Triumphs of the United States at Paris.

(Special Correspondence American Economist)

Paris July 7—To the superficial observer or to one who believes the figures cannot lie the Paris exposition of 1900 appears as a great triumph for French manufacturers Certain it is that in many of the classes France is tremendously in evidence—altogether too much so to the satisfaction of the [illegible] cramped aliens and peradventure also too much so for France s own good In the last analysis it is quality and not quantity that determines superiority When the exposition is reduced to its vital forces—to the things that make for commercial supremacy—it is America that stands pre eminent And next in order comes Germany The invasion of 1870 is once more repeated and in the long run the last may prove more destructive to this self sufficient people than the first Germany is both a swift adapter and ready imitator She adjusts herself more quickly to new conditions than are other European nations She stands first as importer of American machinery and aided by patent laws specially adapted to further [illegible] the market fairly good imitations

Remarkable as is the exhibit of the Americans under their own flag there is a [illegible] productive energy which though rightfully belonging to America stands to the credit of France The plain truth is that the American giant has come to this exposition bound by invisible but none the less potent thongs American cars run on the exposition railways, and American motors propel them American pumps furnish all the water that is used on the exposition grounds make possible the wonderful display of the electric fountains and in addition supply the power that elevates the cars to the top of the Eiffel tower Furthermore American [illegible] all the energy to accomplish these results yet no mention of any of these things is made in the catalogues and France under different names receives and accepts all the credit

It may be gratifying to reflect that our country is the great inventor and producer of labor saving machinery but there is another side to this question and that is that we are rapidly assisting Europe to make her own machines after our patterns Why the American asks after a tour of inspection of the exposition are not our great manufacturing aggregations represented here by worthy exhibits? The lack of adequate space aside which is generally assigned as the first reason he discovers on further investigation that they are under bonds to their French organizations not to do so This is the case with the Westinghouse company the General Electric company the Worthington company the Allis company the Babcock & Wilcox company and any number of others All of these are leaders in the domain of giant machinery and each of these works here under more or less [illegible] And American companies not yet appearing here under French guises for the manufacture of their specialties are stimulated by these examples, and there is a probability that the number of American companies with branch factories in France under French names will in the near future be doubled

Now if this transplantation continues and it is certain to do so how will it affect American production? Are we arming our adversaries to our own disadvantage As to Germany [illegible] spreading operations most certainly [illegible] Britain it is an open question Why these differences of probable effect? It is all summed up in the producing power of the man behind the machine

In this respect the Frenchman is an utter incapable From one end of this exposition to the other from every foreign department without exception there is complaint about French workmen and but for the fact that most exhibitors brought more or less home labor with them there would be no exhibition at all Even at this writing when the exposition has been open for nearly three months, scores of important exhibits are without power and where connections have been made the power is so intermittent and inadequate that it is for the most part only a [illegible] electricity The Westinghouse company in its French guise put up an electric plant on the grounds for the sole purpose of supplying [illegible] the electric railroad and moving platform Naturally being to all intents and purposes American it has power to spare But next to none of this may be utilized by exhibitors

The Tiffany Glass company in one of the American sections stood sadly in need of electric lighting to properly display their artistic creations In vain they waited for France to supply this want Finally through repeated representations by the American commissioner permission was given to the Westinghouse people to make connection with this exhibit at the exhibitor s expense This was done but because of interference of one sort and another there are frequent interruptions and on the very day the jury passed upon this exhibit it was in almost complete darkness French incompetency rules everywhere For every complaint there is a shrug of the shoulders and as the complaints increase and multiply there are more shrugs But nothing comes of it all

An enterprising Ohioan has a brick and clay plant here The first sent went to the bottom of the ocean en route Straightway he cabled for another The outfit weighs 90 tons It has been ready for operation since April 15 With July [illegible] without power Stalwart western profanity alone breaks the silence

A word more on the subject of the French workman His general incompetency and want of go is a thousand told tale here The Western Electric company is endeavoring to connect the [illegible] exhibit by telephone to practical ends It has 50 subscribers The switch board is adapted for 5 000 Ten so called French electricians [illegible] to put things into working order inside the building Five Americans would have had it ready in a month, was the comment of the superintendent.

PUERTO RICAN LEGISLATION.

An Able and Timely Article By William C. Amos.

WRITTEN FOR THE GAZETTE.

A plank in the Kansas City Democratic platform reads as follows

We denounce the Puerto Rican law enacted by a Republican congress against the protest and opposition of the Democratic minority as a bold and open violation of the nation s organic law and a flagrant breach of the national good faith It imposes upon the people of Puerto Rico a government without their consent and taxation without representation It dishonors [illegible] by repudiating a solemn pledge made in their behalf by the commanding general of our army which the Puerto Ricans welcomed to a peaceful and unresisted occupation of their land It doomed to poverty and distress a people whose helplessness appeals with peculiar force to our justice and magnanimity

In this the first act of its imperialistic programme the Republican party seeks to commit the United States to a colonial policy inconsistent with republican institutions and condemned by the supreme court by numerous decisions

This plank is rotten It will not support the weight of an impartial and truthful presentation of the provisions of the Puerto Rican law It is a maliciously misleading declaration It is a deliberate demagogic distortion of the character and purpose of one of the most liberal and humane laws ever enacted by the ruling body of a sovereign nation for the upbuilding support and [illegible] lated by a common history and constitution by adoption on terms of peace or conquest by legal probation or if of no relation whatever

The glaring insincerity of the Democratic party and its evident intention to mislead the people if possible is manifest [illegible] masses of our nation that the Puerto Rican law is illiberal and unfair to war is the Puerto Ricans and that in [illegible] per cent of the rates prescribed by the Dingley law on all dutiable articles the United States [illegible] doomed to poverty and distress the inhabitants of Puerto Rico

When the United States acquired Puerto Rico it found the island in financial straits and the question at once arose how to carry on the government of Puerto Rico improve the school system care for the highways and prepare the inhabitants for a larger participation in the affairs of the United States without adding to the burdens of the Puerto Ricans or drawing upon the treasury of our people

The former would have been cruel and crushing to the people of Puerto Rico and the latter a diverting of our public funds from channels of internal improvements and other domestic uses

In considering the merits of the Puerto Rican law it must not be forgotten that most deplorable conditions existed in Puerto Rico when congress undertook to formulate and pass a law respecting the commerce between the United States and Puerto Rico and that these conditions had to be regarded in framing such legislation

The United States was face to face with a most unusual problem of finance involving not only the figures of receipts and expenditures but as well the moral and material advancement of nearly 1 000 000 of human beings

Speaking of the conditions prevailing in Puerto Rico the Hon Henry K Carroll special commissioner for the United States to Puerto Rico in his report of [illegible] says

The last furious storm occurred August 8 1899 and was terribly destructive particularly on the eastern and southern coasts and in the interior Humacao was well nigh destroyed Yabucoa in the beautiful valley of the same name south of Humacao was a heap of ruins and but little was left of the old town and port of Arroyo The damage at Ponce and at the port of Ponce on the south was extremely heavy The streets were swept by a flood and many houses were torn from their foundations The crops of coffee and cane were quite generally destroyed in the east in the south and in the interior and orange and other fruit trees were uprooted or stripped by the [illegible] north coast directly across the island from Ponce also suffered great injuries Between 2 000 and 3 000 persons lost their lives and the destruction of live stock was very great The fall of rain was enormous amounting to 11 20 inches at Juana Diaz, north of Ponce in 24 hours

General Davis who has been in command there for nearly two years in his recent official report to the war department says

The coffee lands suffered worst These trees are planted on the hill and mountain slopes and in many places the declivities are very abrupt The gale tore up the trees loosened the soil and the deluge of water converted the earth into a semi fluid [illegible] sands of acres of coffee plantations slid down into the valley trees soil rocks and every vestige of culture are piled [illegible] such cases there is no restoration possible for where there were smiling groves are now only bald rocks which were uncovered by the avalanches

Where the soil was not disturbed the most of the coffee trees were either uprooted broken off or stripped of foliage and the immature berries The larger trees of other varieties which are habitually grown for shade to the coffee were blown down and their protection to the coffee trees is also gone so where the trees are not wholly denuded the protection of the berries from the sun s heat is absent and the [illegible] shriveled and spoiled It will take five years to re establish these coffee vegas and there will be necessarily years of want and industrial paralysis

The sugar industry has suffered much less than the others Some cane has been uprooted and some has been buried and many mills have been damaged or destroyed The margin of profit at present prices to the sugar grower is small but there is a margin of probably a half cent per pound to the manufacturer who has modern machinery but the old Jamaica train mills which are badly damaged will probably never be reconstructed and the growing cane for next year cannot be ground on such estates unless their owners can negotiate large loans Many will be unable to do this so the prediction seems justified that much growing cane will next year be left to rot in the fields

The municipal governments are many of them prostrate the police cannot be paid the prisoners cannot be fed and the schools must be closed if not wholly supported from the insular treasury

From every town and village I am appealed to for financial help donations, loans are asked implored even and the alternative of chaos is predicted as the result of refusal Proprietors beg for financial help and the homeless for rehabilitation of their dwellings

I can think of but two measures of relief Neither alone will fully realize that result and with a combination of the two the recovery will not be immediate Unless something is done by the invocation of powers beyond my control I fear that the conditions prevailing will go from what is now extremely bad to a still worse condition even to the assumption in certain localities of military government pure and simple with hordes of people dependent for their existence on the bounty of the government of the United States and its people

I have to hear the appeals most piteous appeals for help from almost every hamlet They see no way to turn but to the way they have always turned ie to the government and as its representative here I must hear and dispose of those appeals

Many millions of money as loans have been asked by municipalities and individuals I can only give food for the hungry Should the supply fail there will be a famine such as in the past has swept and depopulated large districts in India and China

With this and other trustworthy information of the same character before it congress saw that a system of direct taxation as obtains here for the support of the insular government added to the other taxes, Puerto Rico as a territory would have to pay toward the expenses of the government of the United States would settle a dire hardship upon Puerto Rico

Three million dollars is the sum estimated to be necessary to meet the expenses of the insular government and to make improvements in the schools sanitation prisons public roads etc

On the basis that prevails in the United States the valuation for taxation of all the property in Puerto Rico is about $100 000 000 A direct tax of 3 per cent [illegible] would procure $3 000 000 the sum needed by the Puerto Rican government to meet its expenses The expenses of the municipalities [illegible] direct tax at probably a higher rate of taxation than 3 per cent Independent of these direct taxes Puerto Rico as a territory of the United States is required to pay the same internal revenues and tariff duties on imports as the states and other territories

It has been estimated that the receipts from the internal revenue taxes in Puerto Rico and duties on Puerto Rican imports will amount the first year to about $2 000 000 which with the $3 000 000 derived from direct taxation for insular needs would be a taxation upon the Puerto Ricans of $[illegible] 000 000 exclusive of all municipal taxes This would be a weight too great for Puerto Rico to bear

It is fair and just for the United States to impose these taxes upon Puerto Rico and it would be only what [illegible] United States is required to do [illegible] Puerto Rico to be required to turn the revenues derived from her collection of the internal revenue taxes and of the duties on her imports into the national treasury at Washington for the benefit of the general government but in order to [illegible] the people of Puerto Rico and to give practical illustration of the humane sentiments and helpful benignity the Stars and Stripes typify congress passed a law granting to Puerto Rico unique privileges and peculiar exemptions from financial duties common to the other territories of the United States in [illegible] creating an endowment fund of $3 000 000 for the use of the [illegible]

The provisions of the Puerto Rican law which conspicuously show the desire of the United States to deal in a considerate and liberal manner with the citizens of Puerto Rico are

First—The Puerto Rican law requires Puerto Rico to pay the same internal revenue taxes that are paid by the other territories and states of the union but unlike the other territories and the states Puerto Rico is not required to turn them into the national treasury at Washington and is authorized to pay them into the treasury at Puerto Rico for the exclusive use of that island

Second—The Puerto Rican law provides that Puerto Rico shall pay the same tariff duties on her imports as are paid in other parts of the United States but instead of paying the receipts from these duties into the treasury of the United States they shall be paid into the insular treasury of Puerto Rico for the benefit and uses of that island

Third—The Puerto Rican law levies a slight duty of 15 per cent of the rates prescribed by the Dingley law on commerce between the United States and Puerto Rico and further provides that the full amount this 15 per cent yields whether collected in the United States or in Puerto Rico shall be set aside for the uses and benefits of Puerto Rico

Fourth—It also provides that the full amount collected under this 15 per cent duty by officials of this government [illegible] Puerto Rico without deducting so much as one dollar towards defraying the expenses incident to its collection

Fifth—The Puerto Rican law also [illegible] the legislative assembly of Puerto Rico which this law creates shall have put into operation a system for local taxation to meet the expenses of the government all tariff duties on commerce between the United States and Puerto Rico and between Puerto Rico and the United States shall cease

And that in all events after the first day of March 1902 all duties on imports into the United States from Puerto Rico and on imports from the United States into Puerto Rico shall cease

Is not this law a splendid tribute to the genius and conscience of the American congress?

When the full benevolence and practical benefits of this law become known, it will be dropped from the list of subjects to be condemned denounced abhorred and repudiated by Democratic orators

It is expected that there will be derived from the internal revenue tax and from the import duties in Puerto Rico the sum of $2 000 000 for the benefit of that island

The 15 per cent of the rates of the Dingley schedule will make up the deficiency of $1 000 000 giving to Puerto Rico the $3 000 000 necessary to provide for its governmental expenses

By this means the Puerto Ricans escape the onerous burden of a direct tax

Under the terms of the Puerto Rican law the United States virtually donates $3 000 000 to Puerto Rico which she rightfully might appropriate for her own ends

The open and bold violation of the nation s organic law mentioned in the quotation from the Democratic platform at the head of this article probably [illegible] constitutional right of the United States to impose any duty whatever on commerce between the territories states

The supreme court has [illegible] lished the fact that the constituti not self extending nor self asse but that it requires specific act congress to carry it to a territory

It is not contemplated by the w at this time to attempt to cover legal relations of the United State its insular possessions althoug passing it may be stated that cong has repeatedly legislated for the ernment of our territories withou gards to the privileges bestowed the limitations enjoined by the stitution and it may be pertinen say that Mr Jefferson recognized power of congress to legislate for territories independently of the stitution when in speaking of the Louisiana purchase he said The terri was purchased by the United State their confederated capacity and ma disposed of by them at their pleas IT IS IN THE NATURE OF A C ONY WHOSE COMMERCE MAY REGULATED WITHOUT ANY R ERENCE TO THE CONSTITUTIO

Democrats these are the words Thomas Jefferson who it seems ha different idea of the nation s orga law than that held by the framer the Kansas City platform

Democrats ponder these words Mr Jefferson let them sink into y minds and before quoting Mr ferson to sustain a narrow and pe mistic view of our sovereign rig and the expansion of our territ read again these words It is in nature of a colony whose comme may be regulated without any re to the constitution

Mr Jefferson was speaking of Louisiana purchase which under terms of the treaty ceding it to us, a right to expect participation in affairs of the United States where the treaty ceding to us Puerto R especially and plainly gives to United States the power to establ the civil and political status of the habitants therein.

The Republican party is proud to charged with the authorship of Puerto Rican law It is good law a will enable the people of Puerto R to become self sustaining and to velop the rich and varied resources their beautiful island

THE GREATEST EXPLOSION.

A Volcanic Eruption That Was Hea — Three Thousand Miles Away.

When we speak of the terror of a v canic eruption and of what such manifestation of the explosive p hidden in the earth s interior is capab we usually think of Vesuvius and overwhelming of Pompeii and Her laneum in the year 79 of our Christi era Yet we have had, within 17 yea one that was far worse and much mo destructive of human life and vast te ritories than anything else of its ki of which history tells This was t eruption, in 1883, of Krakatua a vo cano on an island of that name in t Strait of Sunda which connects th Java sea with the Indian ocean, b tween Java and Sumatra East Indie The catastrophe is described in the A gust St Nicholas by Dr Eugene Mu ray Aaron

To a height of over 20 miles or 106 0 feet Krakatua hurled a volume of pum ice in fine ash that was literally sca ed around the world Large blocks [illegible] still quite [illegible] 15 miles away But even better this mighty force illustrated when w learn that the whole northern part the island, several square miles in ex tent, was completely blown out of sigh and where was formerly dry land now sea surroundings in some poin nearly 1 000 feet in depth

Even more irresistible must hav seemed the mighty earthquake wav which overtook and drowned over 30 0 people on neighboring islands some li erally hundreds of miles away It wa noticed at the Cape of Good Hope, 7 5 miles away

However it seems that it is when w [illegible] the deafening report of the deto nation of this unprecedented upburst the earth s surface that its wonderfu force is most impressed upon us O the island of Rodriguez over toward Madagascar 2 968 miles away wa heard clearly and beyond doubt, th faint sound of the ear splitting detona tion in the Strait of Sunda In Indi in Australia and in every direction li erally for thousands of miles around this sound was carried At Karima Java 350 miles away native boats pu out to sea to look for some imaginar steamer that they felt sure must hav exploded out there

Although not so wonderful to mos of us to scientists the most remarkabl feature of all of this most wonderfu cataclysm known to man was the air wave which proceeded from this awfu explosion Such a wave is recorded by [illegible] barograph wherever observatories weather bu reaus or like organizations are repre sented And this air-wave is recorded as having encircled our globe thre times before its marvelous force wa finally spent

So it is quite safe to say when we are asked the question as to which of al the mighty manifestations of God s power in this world thus far within th ken of science has been the most stu pendous the most all-overwhelming, that the terrific annihilation of Kraka tua in 1883 surpasses all else

A smoke that encircled the globe, a wave that traveled 7 500 miles, a sound heard 3 000 miles afar and an air-shock hurled thrice around the earth—what more can be sought as testimony to the [illegible]

COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR GIRLS

A Graduate Outlines "How a Girl Can Work Her Way Through College"

A graduate of Cornell university writes on How a Girl Can Work Her Way Through College in the August Ladies Home Journal and argues that the penniless girl determined to gain a collegiate education can and will readily get it Typewriting and book-keeping she holds are helpful to such an undertaking while the student may also earn money by giving dancing lessons playing the piano conducting literary or history classes, choir singing tutoring conducting co-operative boarding clubs selling books, stationery, millinery, and articles of dress furnishings making and selling couch pillows, covers and room decorations cleaning and mending clothing hairdressing conducting agencies, writing advertisements writing and illustrating for newspapers and magazines, etc This fair graduate points out many roads which will take through college the bright energetic girl who is not averse to hard, conscientious work

Teach Children Economy in Little Things.

GLEN PARK

Special to the Gazette.

Glen Park, July 25.—A golf club has been formed with Prof. Dixon as captain, Miss Wells as vice captain and Mr. Bishop is secretary and treasurer, Mr. Patchell, of Pueblo, and Miss Cory, of Denver, as members of committee. Activity has been shown in improving the fine golf links lying south of the Chautauqua grounds and the puttin-green and teeing grounds are now in good shape. The course consists of nine holes. A fine match took place between Prof. Dixon and Mr. Bishop, when the former made a record round of 47 and the latter a record of 51.

Glen Park experienced a severe storm last Tuesday. The downpour was accompanied by hail and lightning. Miss Kate Manly, manager of the telephone exchange, was receiving a message from Cripple Creek, and while talking was thrown down against the door and rendered unconscious for a few moments.

Music lovers were delighted with the concert given last Tuesday evening by the Dawkin's quartette, assisted by Prof. Crampton, soloist, and Miss Mary Abram, reader.

Quite a little attention was given to the winning of the prize at the party at the Rockland last Wednesday evening. Miss Boss won the first prize and the consolation prize was awarded to Mr. Roland Hastings.

At 11 a. m. Thursday morning, Dr. James B. Gregg, of Colorado Springs, delivered his lecture on "James Russell Lowell." The lecture was particularly interesting, as he spoke largely from experience, having studied with the author at Cambridge.

The caving in of the floor of the auditorium last Tuesday night was due to the vast crowd that assembled to hear the Dawkin's quartette. It seemed for a time that there would be a panic, but by the coolness of Prof. Wetzel and Superintendent Manly, they got the crowd out without any trouble. The management claims the like will never occur again.

Mr. Chas. S. Beggs, sister and family, of Ashland, Ill., who arrived here this week, expect to remain the rest of the season and enjoy the Chautauqua.

Dr. Fern of Colorado Springs was at the Glen Wednesday and Thursday. He is seeking a location for the summer.

There were 65 people went on the annual excursion to the Black Forest Wednesday, carrying lunch and spending the day under the lofty pine trees. The Black Forest is about eight miles from here, so named after the Black Forest in Germany, which is resembles. Dr. Kinley, who led the party, gave a description of how the miniature forest resembled the larger one of Europe. The party visited other places of interest—the old fort which was used by the pioneers for protection from the Indians, the famous arches, and also the place that is pointed out to all tourists as having such a striking resemblance to the description given in "Faust."

Mr. [illegible] Jonson, of Colorado Springs, came up on his wheel to spend the day.

Mr. C. W. Bowers, of Colorado college, was a visitor at the Glen Wednesday.

The Glen seems to be a favorite resort for men from the far east. Rev. Robert Coltman and wife, of China, are now with us.

At the present time much interest is manifested in organizing a party to go to Cripple Creek by hack, next week. The party will cook their meals by the roadside, and they have already telegraphed ahead for rooms at the different hotels along the route. They expect to be gone about five days.

Mr. True, of Denver, has been the guest of Mr. Carnine for the past few days.

Mr. Ray M. Dickinson, of Colorado Springs, is at the Manly Home for a

Chautauqua and boating and burro riding will be indulged in freely.

The long looked for Dr. Aylesworth finally appeared Thursday evening. He lectured on "James Lane Allen." The first few minutes of the lecture was devoted in drawing comparisons between the old and the new south. "In the old south there was a lack of literary production, but the new south takes a lead in literature. The south presents the greatest quartette of writers—Harris, Nelson Page, James Lane Allen and Mary Johnston." He spoke in particular of Nelson Page's "Red Rock." "The victories of the orators have always been with the south, but we recognize that the printed page is immortal, but where is there such a stimulus as in the south for this, a little warm blood is needed for dreaming. The south lives closer to nature. The blue grass region made Allen, but Allen has also made the blue grass region. They will never be forgotten. In the 'Choir Invisible' sings the mother side, the Scotch-Irish which accounts for the intelligence and wit." He said: "'The Choir Invisible,' is misunderstood by many. The real greatness is in its two characters. The criticism usually arises 'Why didn't the hero and Mrs. Grey marry, or why didn't he get a divorce?' Easy divorces are the result of lax social conditions. Allen means to say, a woman's heart is a man's honor and the chain shall not be broken, but with honor uppermost he clung to his vow. And the last letter that is written to Mrs. Grey is so reverent, so beautiful and clean. Allen has portrayed much of his life in 'The Reign of Law.' But the mother in the 'Reign of Law' was not a description of his mother, for a lovelier woman than his mother does not exist. The 'Kentucky Cardinal' and 'Aftermath' are Allen's best books. In the 'Kentucky Cardinal' we find the bond between man and animals. He spoke of the devotion the young man had for birds, but soon his mind was taken to higher things,—he loves a woman, and of course the bird must die to prove that affection; only as it should be." He said: "I regret Allen wrote the 'Reign of Law,' for from that time Allen has had [illegible]

FOWLER

At the election held here this week to vote on the incorporation of the town a majority of 41 votes were cast in favor of incorporation. Attorney George Killgore, of La Junta, is engineering the scheme through safely and skillfully so that we hope soon now to have a full corps of city officials and to be hailed as a full-fledged town. We have already acknowledgedly the most beautiful, most healthful and in many ways, most desirable residence town in the famous Arkansas valley and this move betokens greater benefits yet to come.

The stockholders of the Oxford Farmers' Ditch company at a special meeting here this week voted an assessment of $8,000 on the capital stock of the ditch for the purpose of putting in a new dam and headgate at the origin of the ditch near Nepesta.

Plans and specifications have been prepared and a most substantial structure of stone and wood will be begun in the very near future. This will put the old, reliable Oxford Farmers' Ditch in its former efficient condition.

Convalescence from all diseases, we universally endorse.

Anheuser-Busch Malt Nutrine

The Greatest Health, Strength and Flesh producer.

As a fat producer and tissue builder, it is indicated at some stage of every disease known to the physician.

Analyses show that this pharmaceutical product contains over 14.59 per cent. of chemically pure malt extract, with only 1.91 per cent. of alcohol. In this proportion we have a food peculiarly adapted to all disordered conditions of the digestive organs, both in children and adult age.
